Rose, 4 Others, 3 Firms Are Indicted Today

All Facing Charges in Bank Case

Group Is Linked To Lacking Funds

New York, March 13 (AP) — William Richard Rose, former president of the Home National Bank of Ellenville, N. Y., another man, three women and three companies were indicted today by a federal grand jury on charges involving the misappropriation of the bank's funds.

Others Indicted

Named besides Rose were Joseph Di Candia, president of the Anjopa Paper and Board Manufacturing Co. Inc. of Napanoch, N. Y.; Mrs. Celia Hoffman and Mrs. Anna Schandler, operators of the Hotel Zeiger in Fallsburg, N. Y.; Mrs. Margaret Brush, bookkeeper for Anjopa; The Anjopa Co.; the Community Television Corp., a New York city concern having a television cable service in Ulster county, and the Dica Paper Manufacturing Co. Inc., defunct, which was in Stillwater, N. Y.

Rose, 51, of 155 S. Main street, Ellenville, was arrested last Nov. 30 when it was charged he was involved in the falsification of bank records, which showed an alleged shortage of $300,000. He is free in $25,000 bail.

New Bank Opens

The Home National Bank, Ellenville's largest, closed on December 3, and on December 21 was reopened as the Ellenville National Bank, which assumed the old bank's deposit liabilities.

Residents of the Ellenville community rallied to the cause and, with outside help, met the goal of $1,050,000 in stock shares needed to open the new bank.

Rose, who was known affectionately in Ellenville as "Uncle Bill," has denied personal gain and stated he made large loans to local businessmen to "help them out."

Glusker, Board Ask Fire Probe

Ellenville state police have been asked by Mayor Eugene Glusker and the village board to investigate two fires which caused $300,000 in damage in the Ellenville business district in the past week.

The request for state police assistance came after a conference with Police Chief Frank Groppe. Cpl. F. E. Steinkampf, BCI, has been assigned. The investigation began Tuesday afternoon.

EDWARD E. McBROOM

Esopus Legion Is To Fete McBroom At Anniversary

Town of Esopus Post 1298 will observe the 38th anniversary of the American Legion by presenting a life membership to a member who served in both world wars.

He is Edward E. McBroom, Port Ewen electrician, who has served more than 10 years as post finance officer.

Presentation of the engraved gold membership card will be made at a Legion birthday party in the Alpine Inn on DeWitt Lake road, Saturday at 7:30 p. m.

Friday Exact Date

The actual anniversary date of the Legion is Friday, March 15. It was founded in Paris, France, after World War 1 and has grown to 17,200 posts from coast to coast in America.

The Legion, aside from having an extensive welfare program for veterans and their families, is devoted to leadership in all movements to preserve and strengthen the free institutions and cherished liberties of American way of life.

Has 250 Members

Town of Esopus Post is one of the most progressive American Legion units in Ulster county, which has built up a membership of 250 over the past 12 years.

Legionnaire McBroom is a charter member of the post. He served on the committee of arrangements for purchase of the memorial home in Port Ewen, and then took an active part in the various fund raising projects that paid the mortage in a short period of time.

He has managed the finances

More TB Patients Treated

86 Are Admitted, 131 in Hospital

An increase in admissions and total patients under care at the Ulster County Tuberculosis Hospital were noted by Dr. Herbert F. Schwartz, medical director, in the 1956 operating report released today.

Admissions in 1955 totaled 54 patients while 86 were admitted last year for an increase of nearly 60 per cent, Dr. Schwartz said.

Total patients under care in 1956 were 131 compared with 106 in 1955, an increase of nearly 24 per cent, he noted.

Prevention Falls Down

Dr. Schwartz quoted the July issue of "Hospital Management," which said, "Progress made in saving the lives of tuberculosis patients has been tremendous. Unfortunately, progress made in preventing tuberculosis has been relatively slight."

He said the truth of that quotation "is evidenced by the increase in the number of patients admitted to this hospital during 1956."

Figures Given

The hospital clinic made 5,607 examinations during 1956, of which 2,507 showed some abnormality, the report said.

The positive findings were: Tuberculosis, 971, of which 34 were new cases; tumors, 43; heart, 190, and miscellaneous, 1,303.

The diagnostic studies made in the clinic by the hospital

Aileen Kiff Is Elected High School May Queen

Aileen Kiff, Kingston High School senior, was elected May Queen today on a first ballot by more than 352 students, according to Clifford Miller, principal.

"This is the first time a May Queen was picked on the first vote," Mr. Miller told The Freeman, "and I think it is indicative of her popularity."

Elected as maid of honor was Patricia Van Kleeck, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Burton Van Kleeck of RFD 2, New Paltz.

Miss Kiff, a retailing student and drum majorette, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Merritt Kiff of West Hurley.

Both girls are active in school events and Miss Van Kleeck is also a student council officer.

Mr. Miller also told The Freeman that the queen's court would be selected this week.

16 Committee Heads Appointed for 1957

Sixteen committee chairmen for the ensuing fiscal year were appointed by the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce Tuesday night and action taken on an extensive agenda including reaffirmation of an earlier recommendation to the Common Council that it make funds available for a municipal planning survey.

Heading Committees

Chairmen are as follows:

Harrison Cornish, agricultural; Herbert Greenwald, air transportation; Robert L. Sabin, B-E Day; William R. Stall, budget; Hugh R. Elwyn, city and county legislative affairs; Richard M. Kalish, community college; James D. Hood, education; John H. Haulenbeek, industrial procurement; Abraham Streifer, national legislative affairs; George Svirsky, parking; N. Jansen Fowler, planning council; George Mustaparta, safety; Robert B. O'Reilly, sales tax; William E. Rylance, school; S. James Matthews, state legislative affairs, and Alex Embree, Jr., traffic and transportation.

Permanent membership and retail merchants committees are still to be appointed. The terms of all Chamber committees expire and the terms of all new committee appointments commence at the annual membership business meeting.

Ask Planning Funds

Manager Albert C. Kurdt was instructed to write to Mayor Frederick H. Stang and the Common Council to reaffim previous action requesting that funds for municipal planning be made available as promptly as possible.

On recommendation of the national legislative affairs committee, a resolution was unanimously approved asking Congress to make a flat 10 per cent reduction in the proposed federal budget for the coming year. Frank E. Bourke, chairman of the committee, was present and outlined the reasons for the committee's recommendations.

Oppose U. S. School Aid

Another resolution approved by the Chamber opposes legislation now pending in Congress to make federal funds available to all states for school construction purposes. The resolution states the belief that school matters should be a local and state responsibility without control or dictation from a centralized government in Washington.

Several changes in the by-laws recommended by a special revision committee were reviewed and approved for presentation at the annual membership business meeting to be held in April. This would change the procedure in electing directors and gives the same voting power to sustaining memberships as enjoyed by regular memberships. President Vincent Burns thanked Chairman J. Ellis Briggs and his committee for the thoroughness and completeness of the by-law changes recommended.

It was decided to hold a panel-type program on traffic and related problems at the annual business meeting.

City Taxes Due Monday

City Treasurer Oscar O. Goodsell today issued a reminder that Monday, March 18, is the deadline for payment of first installments on city taxes without penalty. A charge of two per cent will be added after that date. The city treasurer's office is open from 9 a. m., to 5 p. m., Tuesday through Friday, and from 9 a. m., to 6 p. m. on Mondays. It is closed Saturdays.

Merchants Ask Street Repairs In Downtown Area

A bid for repair of streets in the downtown area was made by the Rondout Area Business Men's Association last night in the Recreation Center, 97 Broadway.

A resolution was adopted asking that the alderman in the area "take this matter up with the proper authorities to see if this condition can be improved."

Streets needing the attention, it said, are Ferry, Mill, Chambers and Wurts streets. "We also feel," it said, "that the streets in this area should be cleaned."

It noted that "streets in the Rondout area are in a deplorable and dangerous condition, and are apparently neglected by the Board of Public Works."

The business men also discussed city planning and the once proposed urban renewal project for the downtown area, but took no definite action on these.

Final Ford Payment Made to Hospitals

The Ford Foundation announced in New York city today final payments totaling $98,315,300 to 3,300 private hospitals in its $200 million program to improve and extend community hospital services in the 48 states, Alaska, Hawaii, and Puerto Rico.

Five area hospitals are among those which received final payments. The hospitals and their total grants are as follows:

Benedictine Hospital, $62,600; Kingston Hospital $60,100; Ellenville Veterans' Memorial Hospital, $25,400; Monticello Hospital, $28,900, and St. Luke's Hospital, Newburgh, $94,200.

Part of Appropriations

The program is one part of the appropriations of $500 million announced by the Foundation on December 12, 1955. This total also included $210 million to raise college faculty salaries and $90 million to strengthen medical school instruction. An additional $10 million has since been approved to match contributions to the National Fund for Medical Education by industry and individuals.

Hospitals originally included in the program were those nonprofit, non-governmental institutions listed by the American Hospital Association as of December 12, 1955, or hospitals which had applied for listing by this date and were approved before March 15, 1956. The program did not extend to hospitals under construction or not in actual operation at the time of the announcement.

Grants Range

Grants to individual hospitals range between $10,000 and $250,000. Individual amounts were computed on the basis of patient days of service and the number of births in each hospital.

The $98,315,300 total includes second-installment payments of $97,876,000 to 3,277 hospitals. First installment payments to this group, in the amount of $98 million, were completed by January 14, 1957. An additional 23 hospitals, whose eligibility has been determined since the January date, are receiving their grant payments in lump sums totaling $439,300. Final determination of the eligibility of approximately 100 hospitals is pending.

The program is an effort by the Foundation to help strengthen basic American institutions and to encourage wider public support of them. It has been evident for some time that population increases and advances in medical service have strained the facilities of the nation's voluntary, nonprofit hospitals. Rising expenses of hospital construction and operation have contributed to a climb of 132 per cent in the cost of hospital care from 1946 to 1956. Many hospitals are operating without deficits only through curtailment

Ave Says Gas Must Go Up for Road Building

Albany, N. Y., March 13 (AP)—Gov. Harriman cautioned today that the state gasoline tax would have to be raised by two cents a gallon to support expanded highway construction if the Legislature did not act soon to provide for a one-cent boost.

Would Be Higher Later

The Democratic governor took his strongest stand to date on the Diefendorf Commission's proposals for increasing motor fuel taxes when he told a news conference;

"It is perfectly clear that the state needs additional revenue to support the commission's program. Unless there is early passage of a gasoline tax increase, there will have to be a larger increase later on."

Harriman said he meant a two-cent increase would be required "in a few years"—if the program were to be carried out —unless there was a decision soon that a one-cent increase would be enacted.

Fights Phone Increase

The governor also reiterated his demand for legislation that would block a $55,400,000-a-year increase sought by the New York Telephone Company.

He said he opposed suggestions that had been advanced for delaying action pending a study by a joint legislative committee of the entire problem.

Harriman asserted that the state law that would be changed by the legislation was "outmoded." It is "perfectly clear" that the law should be changed to head off higher rates, he declared.

Other Stands

In response to questions on other subjects, Harriman:

1. Declared that he had not—and would not—deviate from his insistence that preference provisions must be inserted in legislation that would authorize the State Power Authority to develop Niagara power.

2. Contended that Republican proposals for creating a "civil rights bureau" within the GOP-controlled State Law Department would "undermine" the State Commission Against Discrimination.

3. Maintained that he would wait to see GOP legislation on state-employe pay increases before drawing any conclusions on the proposal.

4. He said he was "just as glad" that the Legislature had voted to renew the state's security risk law without change, even though one of his study committees had proposed limiting the scope of the law. He said the subject required "a great deal more study" before changes should be made.

Commends Morhouse

Harriman said he wanted to "commend" the Republican state chairman L. Judson Morhouse, for his "forthrightness" in coming out Monday for prompt increase in the motor-fuel taxes.

Morhouse, in doing so, broke with the undeclared policy of the Legislature's Republican leaders, who are known to be opposed to raising the taxes at this time.

The Diefendorf Commission has recommended boosting the gasoline tax from four to five cents a gallon and the levy on diesel fuel from six to seven and a half cents, effective Jan. 1.

Israel Is Sounding Warning

Compromise Goal During UN Talks

Jerusalem, March 13 (AP)—Prime Minister David Ben-Gurion told the Israeli Parliament today that his government "reserves its freedom of action" if the Egyptians return to the Gaza Strip.

It was Ben-Gurion's first comment since Egypt announced it was resuming control of the disputed Mediterranean coastal area. The tough old Israeli leader who ordered Israel's blitz invasion of Egypt last October warned:

Won't Give Notice

"If the time comes when action is appropriate and necessary, the Israel government will not, of course, give prior notice of its actions."

The Gaza Strip, Ben-Gurion told the Knesset (Parliament), never belonged to the Egyptians and was "of use to them only for the purpose of attacks or threats against Israel."

In Cairo, UN officials and the Egyptians atppeared to be moving toward a compromise providing for Egypt to handle the civil administration in Gaza while UN troops policed the Israeli-Gaza border.

Israel withdrew from Gaza last week on the assumption that the UN emergency force would administer the strip and that Egyptian control would not be reimposed.

Bunche, Nasser Meet

UN Undersecretary Ralph Bunche and Egyptian President Nasser met for the first time to discuss the Gaza crisis.

Bunche talked for an hour and a half with Nasser, then told newsmen the U. N. emergency force would cooperate fully with the Egyptian administration in the Gaza Strip.

Assurance Asked

Ben-Gurion spoke in reply to a deputy asking assurance the Israeli government would take "all political and security steps" to prevent the return of an Egyptian regime to the Gaza Strip.

For the present, the premier said, Israel is trying to head off an Egyptian return to Gaza by "political measures." He did not specify these, but Ambassador Abba Eban hurried back to Washington from a Florida vacation to confer with U. S. officials.

Surprised by Bunche

Ben-Gurion expressed surprise at Bunche's earlier statement that the UN troops are in Gaza with Egyptian agreement.

"It was not in the power of the Egyptian dictator to agree or disagree to this since he was ignominiously expelled from the

IBM Denies Plant In Kentucky Is Leased to GE Firm

A rumor to the effect that IBM is leasing the new Lexington, Ky., electric typewriter plant to General Electric was denied by IBM today.

The report was called "unfounded" and it was stated plans are being developed to move the typewriter division from Kingston to Kentucky as announced some time ago.

It was stated at the local plant that the rumor, which has gained wide circulation in recent weeks, had no basis in fact.

Safe Found, Not One Stolen From Phoenicia

A Mt. Tremper man discovered a small safe on Route 212 near Young's Tavern Tuesday night but Kingston state police reported after investigation that it is not the one stolen Saturday night from the Gordon Pharmacy, Phoenicia.

The pharmacy safe, which contained no cash but a quantity of narcotics worth perhaps three or four thousand dollars, is still missing today.

The safe found last night near Route 212 by George Molk of Mt. Tremper was stolen from the Chester Rendering Co., Chester, located in Orange county, some time between noon on November 24, and 8 a. m. on November 26, Sgt. R. L. Keating told The Freeman this morning.

He said the safe, which had been "ripped open," still contained books and ledgers of the company, a disability insurance check, etc. Between $350 and $450 in cash was missing, however.

Teletype messages were checked by the local station and the theft of a safe from the Chester Rendering Co. found in local state police records, Monroe state police were notified.

Sgt. Keating said the Mt. Tremper safe was about 16 inches by 20 by 24 and weighed perhaps 250 pounds. It had been badly damaged in opening.

It was found behind Young's Tavern not far from the highway. Cpl. Edward Shannon, BCI, investigated.

Troopers are still investigating the theft of a safe weighing about 300 pounds from the back room of Gordon Pharmacy some time Saturday night or Sunday morning.

Due to the fact that the safe contained narcotics, federal law enforcement agencies are assisting in the investigation. Details as to type of narcotics, quantity, etc., were not disclosed.

Entrance to the pharmacy was gained by breaking a pane of glass and unlocking a window. The room in which the safe was located was not disturbed and apparently no merchandise was removed.

The break is believed to have occurred some time between 9 p. m. Saturday and 9 a. m. Sunday.

Scholar Is New President Of Uptown Business Group

Joseph D. Scholar Jr., manager of Joseph Scholar & Son appliance store, was elected president of the Kingston Uptown Business Men's Association at the annual meeting, succeeding Adrian Kaplan.

Stanley London, manager of the Junior Bazaar department of London's, was named first vice president; August R. Foerschler, manager of the Rowe Shoe Company, Inc., was named second vice president and Robert B. O'Reilly, accountant, was re-elected secretary treasurer.

The board of directors which has served during the past year remains the same until successors are elected.

At the meeting various plans for the coming year were discussed with accent on the parking situation and the expected municipal assistance for maintenance of the present parking lots. The organization is looking forward to the reality of the parking pavilion as proposed by the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce Parking committee.

Stress on welcoming the people from Dutchess county into the Kingston shopping area now that the Kingston-Rhinecliff bridge is completed and open for use, was also made at the meeting.

A report was submitted on the Christmas lighting and the program was reviewed.

Plans for the coming year were discussed and a program for the spring and summer season was reviewed.

SERVES 25 YEARS ON YMCA BOARD—A resolution expressing the appreciation of the YMCA Board of Directors is presented to James A. Guttridge, of 19 Irving place, who resigned as a member of the board Tuesday evening after serving 25 years. (L-r) Earl F. Soper, chairman of the board's public relations committee; Mr. Guttridge, G. Herbert DeKay, president of the board, and Louis H. Schafer, general secretary of the local YMCA. Mr. Guttridge, a member of the board since 1932, served as chairman of the building committee for many years and was active in the annual financial campaigns. (Freeman photo).

Boys Club to Honor Firms And Groups for Aid Given

Plaques and certificates to organizations and individuals who contributed to the alterations of the Kingston Boys' Club headquarters, 139 Greenkill avenue, will be presented during "open house" Thursday at 7:30 p. m.

John Holochuck, director, announced an appropriate plaque and certificate of appreciation will be awarded to the following organizations:

Junior League of Kingston, Kingston Lions Club, Kingston Kiwanis Club, Kingston Patrolmen's Association, Ulster County Shrine Club, and B'nai B'rith Lodge and Chapter.

Certificates of appreciation will also be given to many business firms and persons who played a part in making the renovation of the building possible. Mr. Holochuck said.

The following will be included, along with other business firms, in the presentation of certificates:

William O'Reilly Inc., Kaplan Furniture Co., Inc., Raymond M. Amell, Modjeska Sign Studio, and Montgomery Ward.

The Boys' Club is a member service of the Kingston Area Community Chest, and the public is invited to visit the organization at any time, Mr. Holochuck said.

Robert gave an example of his genius last night by collecting the top prize on CBS' "The $64,000 Question" to qualify for what the network calls "The World's Biggest" TV quiz show prize.

Young Strom fielded four tricky questions to win the $64,000 prize. One example: The French Astronomer Messier calculated, by number, different star clusters and nebulae. To what did he assign the number 13?

Answers With Ease

He reeled off the answer promptly: Great Star Cluster in Hercules. The other three questions were equally hard, but Robert answered them with ease.

Just a few hours prior to the show, the sponsor, (Revlon) a cosmetics firm, announced that $64,000 would no longer be the top prize. Anyone reaching that figure, they said, qualified to try and double, triple and quadruple his winnings to $256,000.

The reason for boosting the prize, a spokesman said, was that "The $64,000 Question" had fallen behind a competitor.

Redeemer Church Will Observe Lutheran Mission

The Church Council of the Evangelical Lutheran Church of the Redeemer, Wurts and Rogers streets, last night approved a recommendation calling for the full participation of the congregation in the Lutheran Evangelism Mission which is scheduled for this area the week following Easter.

Details of the mission which were given at an area meeting in Red Hook last week revealed that the program is one of "in-reach as well as outreach," looking toward the revitalization of the life of the congregation as well as seeking new commitments to the cause of Christ.

Named to head the mission committee in Redeemer Church, was Henry O. Wickman of Clifton avenue. Mr. Wickman appointed sub-chairmen who will make up the general committee as follows: Prayer, Burton Berge; Lay visits, Heinz Burmester; Publicity, William Daum; Hospitality, Chester Fox; Music, Thomas A. Rowland; Telephone, Ernest Ryan Jr.; Finance, Harry A. Legg and pastor, the Rev. David C. Gaise as an honorary member of the committee.

The general committee is scheduled to meet next Monday to chose a guest pastor as Missioner and name a full complement of membership from the congregation on each of the subcommittees. Frederick F. DuBois, who named Mr. Wickman to the chairmanship of the Mission, pointed out to the congregation last week that Redeemer is one of twenty congregations in the Hudson Valley participating in this continent-wide Lutheran effort and called on the membership to give enthusiastic support.

Amputation Group Organizes Task Force Program

Paul Ramaglia, president of the National Amputation Foundation, is asking all hospitals to cooperate with a recently instituted task-force hospital program for the earlier rehabilitation of the new amputees.

Thanks to the Foundation's unique task-force hospital program, an amputee-to-be or an unfortunate who suffers outright loss of limb can begin his rehabilitation literally at bedside.

According to Ramaglia, it is the desire of the Foundation to obtain from area hospitals the names of amputees-to-be and whatever additional information that may be helpful and pertinent. This activates the task-force hospital program in behalf of men and women of every race, color and creed.

The Foundation works in close cooperation with hospitals, so that existing hospital facilities and therapeutic or psychological services can operate at fullest potential possible, with the Foundation complimenting them but in no way attempting to replace, duplicate or interfere with the important relationship of the hospital to the amputee. The Foundation program shifts to a more primary role only after the amputee is discharged from the hospital, he said.

GIRL SCOUT WEEK

In recognition of the help men and women are giving to Girl Scouting, the Girl Scouts' theme for their 1957 birthday celebration is "Girl Scouting Is a Family Affair."

Girl Scout Week, which currently is being observed, is being celebrated by approximately three million girls and adults, the largest membership in its history. Of this number about 670,000 are men and women volunteers.

Ulster County Council of Girl Scouts, Inc., is participating in the 45th anniversary of the organization. The program of the local council includes demonstrations of their work.

Many lives are made happier because Girl Scouts promise to help other people at all times. Whether the girls raise money to buy a new wheelchair for a polio patient, bring home-made valentines to old folks in an institution or baby-sit to enable a busy mother to vote, Girl Scouts develop sympathy and consideration for others by lending a helping hand wherever they see a need for service.

The large number of women, who act as troop leaders, and the men, who give their time as consultants, do so because they know the importance of character building and good citizenship training.

OVERDRAWN ON WATER

Thoughtful Americans are becoming increasingly aware that, in the words of a Wisconsin conservation official, we have "overdrawn our water account." It is high time to undertake a broad program to conserve this precious resource.

D. John O'Donnell, director of the Wisconsin State Conservation Department, believes that Americans are engaged in "the greatest destructive exploitation of natural resources the world has ever experienced." He said so at a meeting of the North American Wildlife Conference, where he also recommended creation of a new federal agency to coordinate management of water resources.

"There is an urgent need," O'Donnell said, "for one authoritative agency combining all federal interests in water. A similar body is needed in each state."

There must be careful thinking before we rush into the creation of such an agency. It might be that present agencies could do just as effective a job, if given the necessary authority. But in any case, a comprehensive plan of action should be undertaken as soon as possible. The need of a thoroughgoing program to conserve our water resources for this and future generations is no longer open to question.

BIZMAC TO THE RESCUE

Armed forces are relatively more expensive to maintain now than at any time in history. They are better housed, better clothed, better armed and equipped in every way. All this costs tremendous amounts of money. Besides, a large proportion of our total military manpower is engaged in maintaining equipment and keeping records.

Happily, science is beginning to come up with some relief. The latest evidence of this is the army's new electronic brain called Bizmac. Under the control of a few highly skilled men, Bizmac can perform months of paper work in a few minutes. It is reported to be capable of keeping track of more than 100 million facts about the army's tank and automotive spare parts.

The chances are that this is only the beginning. Certainly other electronic brains will eventually be employed to perform similar operations in all of our armed forces. This will result in a substantial saving. It also should reduce the armed forces' need for manpower, and that, too, will cut costs significantly.

A certain Washington musician doubtless will be nominated as man of the year by parents of small boys taking violin lessons. He has devised a silent bow for practice sessions.

COMMUNISTS AND JEWS

Among the resolutions that were not passed at the recent convention of the American Communist Party was one introduced by Morris U. Schappes, dealing with anti-Semitism in Soviet Russia. This resolution did not come up for a vote; it was referred to the incoming National Committee for consideration. The National Committee was instructed "in a fraternal manner," to request a statement from the Russian Communist Party explaining what has happened to the Jewish question. If such a request is ever made and it is ever answered, what will be done with the reply?

The resolution presented by Schappes takes cognizance of the anti-Semitism that developed during the Stalin regime. It says:

". . . The distortions of the Leninist policy on the Jewish question, as part of the distortions of the national question under Stalin's rule, led to the execution of the leading Jewish cultural figures, and to the administrative liquidation of all channels for Jewish cultural expression in Yiddish in 1948 and 1949. In the very last years of Stalin's life, these distortions produce the attempt to frame-up the Doctor's Case, and its use for anti-Semitic purposes."

The resolution explains the evils that grew up under Stalin:

"Since the XXth Congress in the Soviet Union, the Jewish question in the Soviet Union has been of particular concern. We who had considered that there had been a solution of the national question in general and of the problems of the Jewish people and anti-Semitism in particular, have become aware that the entire problem is more complex than we have hitherto thought. The liquidation of the outstanding Yiddish writers and Jewish communal and political leaders, and the snuffing out of organized Jewish cultural life have been known for some time since the XXth Congress. More recently, official delegations of the Canadian and British Communist parties, as well as French and American progressive journalists, after visits to the Soviet Union and discussions of the problem there, have publicly expressed dissatisfaction with the failure to restore Jewish cultural life, and also with certain views and judgments about the Jewish people expressed by individual spokesmen of the Soviet Union. From one Communist Party delegation we learn, for instance, of such disturbing views and judgments as that the Jews were not considered patriotic enough to be allowed to make the Crimea a center of Jewish re-colonization after the war lest the Crimea become a 'place d'armes' against the USSR in case of another war, or that Jews are not loyal enough to return to the USSR from tours abroad."

Out of this discussion, two trends appear: one, that the Jew, individualistic and idealistic, found life under materialistic Communism too burdensome and found means for revolting against the worst phrase of it; secondly, that under Stalin, Soviet Russia reverted to pan-Slavic chauvinism and that Stalin abused those minority nationalities, which he could not wipe out, by destroying their distinctive cultures. This has been a Russian problem since the Grand Duchy of Muskovy began to expand by absorbing large non-Russian populations.

During the early days of the Revolution, when Lenin and Trotzky were the major figures in the Soviet, Stalin held the rather secondary position of Commissar of Nationalities. He, not being a Russian himself was regarded as an expert in this field. Lenin did not believe that it was necessary to assimilate all the various races and nations that compose Soviet Russia but that each could save its own culture, particularly its language which usually means so much to those who belong to minority groups. This was also Stalin's concept in the early days of the Revolution, but undoubtedly as his power grew, he insisted upon a monolithic state in which there would ultimately be one people, one language, one general belief as to what is right.

In pursuit of such a policy, he sought to destroy the Jews by eliminating their culture, particularly their religion. At first, the use of Yiddis, a Germanic dialect spoken by East European Jews, was encouraged to kill off Hebrew. Then the Yiddish theatre and Yiddish press were suppressed. It was a systematic suppression of the cultural life of a people. Finally, under Khrushchev, Soviet Russia in pursuit of Arabic oil, became the principal enemy of the Jews throughout the world.

Schappes's resolution and its treatment by the American Communist Convention therefore takes on a special significance.

That Body of Yours

CATARACTS

Cataracts are extremely common and best estimates are that one of every 20 people, sooner or later, will develop this condition. Cataracts have a tendency to occur in both eyes in almost nine out of 10 cases. Although they were recognized and written about in Biblical times, it was not until the middle of the 17th century that the true nature of this affliction was recognized as a clouding within the lens of the eye which is located in the eyeball just behind the pupil. The function of the lens is to focus light rays so that they form a perfect image on the retina.

Cataracts present the following symptoms:

1. Blurring of vision which may depend on the location of the cataract. Blurring is marked when the cataract is located in the center of the lens and blurring is least when it is located in the outer margins of the lens.

2. Spots before the eyes which do not move may be present in the early stages of cataract development.

3. Double vision is an occasional characteristic but not always present in cataract.

4. Nearsightedness is a condition which may develop as the cataract grows. If the patient is in his advanced years and is normally somewhat farsighted, he may reach a stage where he believes his sight is improving and he may discard his glasses. This peculiar phenomenon is popularly known as "second sight."

Dr. Bernard L. Small, Jewish Hospital of Brooklyn, tells us that the surgical removal of a cataract is indicated when vision is materially reduced. There is no satisfactory medical treatment for cataract. First, however, the patient must be given a thorough general physical survey including both medical and dental checkup. The chest must be clear as coughing, either during or after surgery, may have a very unfavorable effect upon the outcome of the operation. Bad teeth may act as a focus of infection and contribute to after operation eye infections. The urine must be examined for the presence of sugar as diabetes is not only a frequent cause of cataract formation but lack of control of diabetes during the post-operative period may slow wound healing.

Cataract operations are performed in hospital under local anesthesia. Novocaine is injected behind the eyeball and eyedrops containing a similar drug are instilled into the eye. The operation is painless. The results of cataract operations are excellent in over 90 per cent of cases. The patients are permitted to use their eyes within four weeks after surgery. Sight is restored in these people when they wear eyeglasses. The eyeglass lenses are so ground that they are curved to take over the function which the natural lens formerly performed.

When both eyes are affected by cataract, the standard practice is not to operate upon both eyes during one hospital admission. An interval of four to six months is usually advised between operations.

"Yes, Who Is It?"

Washington News

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

Washington—(NEA) — Three more of the State Department's wartime China hands are to be investigated by Senate Internal Security subcommittee, says its chief counsel, Judge Robert Morris.

Two of these Foreign Service officers have been stationed in the Middle East, which is the new critical area in the U. S. effort to hold the line against communism. And all three of them held important wartime military advisory posts.

John K. Emmerson will be the first to testify in Washington. Until recently he was counselor of embassy at Beirut, Lebanon. He has been at home in Colorado on leave, pending reassignment to Paris.

When Emmerson learned that he had been mentioned in earlier security subcommittee testimony by Rep. Walter Judd (R-Minn.), he volunteered to come in and clear his record.

The other two wartime China service FSO's to be called in later are Robert C. Strong, now counselor of embassy at Damascus, Syria, and Raymond P. Ludden, now on duty in the State Department personnel office in Washington.

THE EMMERSON CASE is of interest principally because he told his State Department superiors several years ago that he was wrong on some of his wartime views about China. Since then he has been given complete clearance and responsible jobs.

Now 49, Emmerson joined the State Department in 1935 after graduation from Georgetown Foreign Service School.

His first assignment was as language officer in Tokyo. He was in Japan five years.

After three years in Lima, Peru, he was assigned to Chungking China, in 1943.

He was on wartime duty at U. S. Fleet commander-in-chief's headquarters in the Pacific. For six months after the end of the war he was political advisor to Gen. Douglas MacArthur in Tokyo.

Recalled to Washington, he served as head of the Japanese affairs office. Then he was assigned to Moscow and later to the National War College. He was counselor of embassy at Karachi, Pakistan, before being sent to Beirut.

THE NAME OF ROBERT C. STRONG was first brought before the Senate Security subcommittee last November. Retired Adm. Charles Maynard Cooke, wartime chief of staff to Adm. Ernest J. King, told the committee that Strong was responsible for reports that Formosa would fall into Chinese Communist hands within two weeks after Chiang Kai-shek fled from the mainland in the fall of 1949.

Admiral Cooke declared that Strong, as U. S. charge d'affaires on Formosa at the time, "did not welcome" military intelligence officers from Pacific headquarters who were trying to build up Chiang Kai-shek forces to hold Formosa against the Reds. This is a new charge on State Department records. Strong has never been given opportunity to answer it publicly.

Now 43, Strong became an FSO in 1939. He served in Frankfurt, Prague, Durban and Sofia before being assigned as political adviser to the Supreme Allied Commander in the Mediterrean in 1944. In 1946 he was detailed to the Naval War College.

He was then made U. S. consul at Tsingtao, China, first secretary at Canton, on special duty in Chungking, consul and first secretary at Taipei, Formosa, until 1950.

STRONG WAS RECALLED to Washington as special assistant to the director of China affairs. He was on the top-level Policy Planning Staff from 1953 till assigned to Damascus in '54.

Ray Ludden, has been in the Foreign Service since 1931. He was first assigned to the Far East in 1932 and served in Tsinan, Yokohama, Mukden, Peking, Canton, Chungking and Kunming.

During the war he was on the staff of the commanding general, China-Burma-India theater. Later he was Army observer at Communist headquarters in Yenan, China. In 1945 he was graduated from Army-Navy staff college, a top-secret school.

Ludden was in Canton till Chaing Kai-shek was driven out in 1949. Then he served in U. S. embassies at Dublin, Brussels, Paris and Stockholm. He contracted tuberculosis overseas and was on sick leave in Florida till reassigned to Washington. He will be eligible for retirement in a few years.

Charges against Ludden are vague. Representative Judd told the Senate committee only that he was associated with "the four Johns"—John Carter Vincent, John Patton Davies, John Stewart Service and John Emmerson in shaping U. S. China policy. The first three were allowed to resign from the State Department after lengthy security hearings and investigation. Ludden has never been given an opportunity to reply to Judd's statement.

Mid-East Vote Called Sign Of a Democratic Cleavage

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, March 13—Fully a week has gone by since the Senate passed the Eisenhower Doctrine, resolution and the vote revealed a serious cleavage inside the Democratic party. But this correspondent has noted a curious silence in the press dispatches on the fact that such a split has occurred.

If the Republican party had divided in the same way and a substantial number of Republican votes had been cast against the resolution, the air would have been filled for several days with outcries about the "failure" of the Eisenhower leadership and about the new strength of the so-called "isolationist" or "right wing" bloc in Congress.

But it so happens that forty-three Republicans supported the Eisenhower Doctrine resolution in the Senate and only four were against it. This is remarkable unanimity and a tribute to the Eisenhower leadership.

It so happens, on the other hand, that, although the Democrats control the Senate, only thirty-one Democratic senators voted for the resolution and eighteen were recorded as against it.

Meaning of Trend

Does this mean that the Democrats now have an "isolationist" wing in the Senate and that the Republicans have abandoned their "isolationism"? If so, American prestige abroad—which we have been told "has sunk low" during the Republican era because of the fear of Republican isolationism — must be bouncing back upward. Or is there a nervousness now in Britain and France, and grave concern over the "isolationist" wave in the Democratic party which might bode ill for the whole foreign-aid program in Congress this year?

Again and again during the last campaign, the country was told by Democratic party spokesmen that the Republican administration should not be returned to power because it could not command a united party. Again and again Adlai Stevenson hammered away at that theme, and many of the so-called "liberals" took it up in their writings. Much was said, too, to the effect that President Eisenhower wouldn't be able to control his own party in his second term because he wouldn't be running again and couldn't be of further use to Republican candidates in future elections. But it turns out that something sensational has happened. Never before has such unanimity prevailed in the Republican party on an international issue, with the possible exception of the vote in 1955 on the resolution authorizing the President to use the armed forces to protect Formosa.

It is significant, too, that, although the Formosa resolution was opposed in the Senate by only two Democrats and one Republican, apparently at least fifteen Democratic Senators now would refuse to give the President of the United States the same authority to use American armed forces to deal with troubled situations abroad.

Shows Lack of Unity

The Democrats in the House of Representatives have not gone along with their colleagues in the Senate and, under the statesmanlike leadership of Speaker Rayburn, vote in overwhelming numbers for the Eisenhower Doctrine resolution. But this only serves to emphasize the lack of unity among the Democrats in Congress as a whole.

Some words of alarm have been expressed by a few Democratic Senators—who do favor international co-operation on the economic side and also military assistance where America is invited to aid—lest the growth of a Democratic party bloc in opposition to such policies may tend to hurt the position which the Democrats as a party have taken in the past.

Certainly the trend away from policies of international co-operation is noticeable among the Democrats in the Senate despite the valiant efforts of Senator Lyndon Johnson of Texas, majority leader, to keep the party in line. A sizable bloc of Democrats is defying the leadership, and some of its members are talking like the Republican isolationists of the 1920s. They can hardly be classified as "modern Democrats."

Discouraging Development

This development is a discouraging one, but it seems to have escaped the notice of the many writers who are always in the forefront of the critics of the Eisenhower administration with the vague charge that the State Department has "no foreign policy" or that it "lacks imaginative ideas."

Plenty has been written, moreover, about a trivial circumstance that occurred when the news dispatchs from the Middle East happened to be good one day and Ike called this to the attention of the country in a casual remark during one of his speeches. Plenty has also been written about another triviality—that some of the Administration's plans about the Eisenhower Doctrine "leaked" to the press before Congress could organize its committee and receive the information. But when eighteen Democrats out of forty-nine in the Senate repudiate the international policies of the party—as expressed in the Marshall Plan, the Truman Doctrine and in Korea—somehow or other there is a tendency in some quarters here to ignore a really important piece of news about a trend that could adversely affect the whole course of the United States in fighting the "cold war" against the Soviets.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

I do not wish to say this out loud but if you will come down here, down to this end of the bar where the juke is blasting away, I would like to confide in somebody, and it might as well be you, that I made a terrible mistake a long, long time ago.

I guess my dear old mother was partly to blame, at that, but she got it from her mother and so on, 'way, 'way back, that honesty was the best policy and she told me that, over and over, and it has taken me all these years to realize that honesty is the most dangerous and most expensive policy that a guy can follow. And the worst policy.

I do not know how it is with you; I would say off-hand that you do not look like an honest guy, you look too smart for that. You have a dishonest face and I would not trust you under any circumstances so do not get me wrong, I am not insulting you, I am paying you a great compliment, I wish I had a face like yours.

The reason for this confession, I just have to tell somebody, all of a sudden I have realized that the people who get the most money and the cheers and get elected, are the most dishonest people.

When I think of Franklin D. Roosevelt I could boot myself, what a dummy I was. But I kept on teling the truth and people would say, listen to that rat blasting our wonderful, noble unselfish president.

I would say, but he said he was going to abolish old Hoover's wanton extravagance and the panic and then he dumped the whole deal three months after inauguration and tossed three billion bucks to old Ickes to start the inflation. They would say keep your trap shut, knocking the happy warrior, how would you like it if you had to wear iron legs and had guys yapping at you all the time?

I found out his son, Elliott, trimmed old John Hartford and a couple of other suckers out of a little under half-a-million on notes and the old man got Jesse Jones to talk the suckers out of the notes and the collateral and I thought that was very dishonest and a terrible thing to do. I thought they will never go to heaven; God will sock them, that's for sure.

So I blew the whistle and guys said shut up, bum, be away, be absent, our great leader only done what any loving father would do to help their pride and joy out of an unfortunate jam.

Then I discovered that Elliott did not have to pay any income tax on all that dough, nor even any capital gain tax, but Morgenthau's department sent a guy around to interview Elliott and the first questions this treasury guy asted Elliott, he asted him what all those medals were on the chest of his uniform. So Elliott was loaded like an old-time band leader, and the treasury said Elliott didn't get the money, it went to his ex-wife so he wouldn't have to pay alimony, so it was not taxable.

So then Muley Doughton of South Carolina got up a hearing and the Democrats did not take any record and, instead of asking Elliott any questions, they just read the treasury statement. Then early one morning they dumped a dozen copies of their report on a table in the house and phoned a lot of New Deal reporters to be on the job to grab them.

So when I got there the copies were all gone, destroyed. Except Bill Hutchinson, of the International News, kept his and that is how I happen to have a copy of this rare document, maybe the only one still in existence.

I yelled and yelled, oh my countrymen how terribly dishonest this is, but guys said shut up, there is a war on, our noble president is pale and worn from his burdens, why aren't you in khaki, you Nazi beast?

Well, about the union, I saw dishonest persons getting rich running rackets and I would finger them and the Department of Justice would say, thank you very much for your kind assistance, we will prosecute those scoundrels relentlessly. So then they would put the wrong words in the indictments and the judges, they were mostly union bums back where they came from, they would dismiss the indictments. I said, why that is dishonest, how can you face your maker when you die?

But the union racketeers either died in office or they are still loaded with money and now they are yelling throw the rascals out, we will not tolerate corruption, it is very dishonest.

What have they got against dishonesty, anyway? Why are they starting to knock dishonesty now, after all these years? I think this is a dishonest pretense myself.

I made a mistake about Warm Springs where Mr. Roosevelt ran a subdivision, selling building lots with infantile paralysis for the ballyhoo, and the deeds of the lots said nobody of African blood or descent could ever own a speck of soil or even rent any house in his subdivision. When

Assistant Chief of Police

As an Alderman and Supervisor of the City of Kingston we are always very much aware of the activities taking place in the city. And as elected officials we are more apt to analyze each happening to extract the political reasoning or political strategy for these occurrences than perhaps the average individual.

One such situation, created by a Republican Administration and displaying the condition we refer to, took place not long ago. We will attempt to describe it to point out our feelings on this matter. To show political favoritism to people of your own political faith in appointments to fill normal vacancies is accepted by all to be normal political practice. But we feel that in the interest of all that is morally right there is a situation which should be exposed for individual appraisal.

To begin with, a few years ago a vacancy for Police Captain was caused by the death of the late Captain William Roedell. In an effort to fill this vacancy a civil service examination was held for this post. The late Lieutenant William J. Leonard qualified for the position with an excellent mark on the examinations while a supposedly prepicked "Captain" failed to complete the test and was necessarily disqualified. Decency, common sense, good judgement and fair play would dictate that Lieutenant Leonard should automatically be promoted to fill the vacant post on the basis of his excellent qualifying mark and on the basis of his conscientious, faithful, devotion to duty which his record clearly stated. Rather than fill the vacancy as originally planned, and even though an examination was conducted, the post of Captain was declared "ABOLISHED" by the then Republican Mayor. It was not difficult to analyze the political strategy of this case. Alderman Edwin Radel, Democrat of the 3rd Ward, started immediately an action in the Common Council in an attempt to recreate the position and recognize the abilities and qualifications of Lt. Leonard by making the only logical appointment. His several attempts failed to influence the Republican administration to change its policies. Now, only hours after the passing of the late Lt. Leonard, we find the same political machine creating a new position of Assistant Chief—which basically is the same captain's post with a new title. Also, after his death, this same administration "publicly" recognizes all of the fine attributes of Lt. Leonard which they intentionally ignored a few years previous but which the population of our city had ALWAYS recognized, even as far back as when he served as patrolman.

We wish to point out that we are in no way criticizing Lt. Robert Murphy who was appointed Assistant Chief. His ability and record speak for itself. We have the highest regard for him and sincerely wish him success in his new post. However we are definitely critical of the manner in which the Republican party ignored Lt. Leonard for the post of captain when he had such a high mark on the Civil Service exam. Tactics of this sort tempt to make a mockery of our Civil Service Laws. We sincerely feel that it is time for the public to be aware of these tactics.

Yours truly
FRANK C. SASS

Heart Fund Drive Totals $12,784

William S. Keyser, campaign chairman of the 1957 Ulster County Heart Fund, reports that contributions to date amount to $12,784.22. This is about 75 per cent of the goal which was set this year for Ulster county.

Mr. Keyser said the response to all solicitations — industrial contributions, the plastic heart collections, organization donations, special events, Heart Sunday, memorial gifts and the letter appeal, has been most gratifying. "Many letters have come in with contributions," he said. The following letter is a typical one:

Dear Mr. Keyser:

Enclosed is a small check to help in the fight against Heart disease, and one dollar in cash from my 11-year-old daughter, Dorothea.

When your letter arrived today I said, "Well, this is a must." Dorothea asked why, and I told her that recently through research they had found a new way to help people with hypertension, and if it had come three years sooner it would have saved her father's life. She left the table, went away for a minute, and came back with a dollar of her "Valentine money." "Here's mine, I want to help too." What better way could a little girl spend her Valentine's Day money?

I sincerely hope it will help to cure a father somewhere who is suffering from malignant hypertension.

Sincerely,
MRS. LOUIS P. TRACEY

Mr. Keyser said it is not yet too late to answer the Heart appeal. Monies for the program are used the whole year through for medical research, health education, diagnostic procedures and the free penicillin for school children, who have had an attack of rheumatic fever.

Former Woman Editor Gets Political Post

Albany, N. Y., March 13 (AP)—Eleanor Clark French of Manhattan, a former newspaperwoman, has been named acting vice chairman of the Democratic state committee.

Committee Chairman Michael H. Prendergast designated her yesterday to succeed vice chairman Mary Louise Nice of Tonawanda, who resigned Friday.

Prendergast said Miss Nice was being considered for appointment to the state commission against discrimination.

He said Mrs. French would be elected to the unsalaried vice chairmanship, to serve through the 1958 primary, at the next meeting of the state committee. No date was set.

As vice chairman, Mrs. French will head the women's division of the committee. She is the wife of John French, a Manhattan lawyer, and a cousin of U. S. Senator Joseph Clark (D.-Pa.) Mrs. French was women's news editor of the New York Times from 1949 to 1955.

As Pegler Sees It

our great leader started beefing that discriminationists were un-Americans I dug out one of those deeds. So I got pasted over again for being so darn honest.

I wish all the world was honest and I could be the only dishonest guy in the world. Those honest saps would trust me and it would be like picking up sticks. I could take all of them at least once because honest guys think other guys are honest, too. But the way it is, honest boys are one in a million. I just wish I had known this 30 years ago, but take my advice, never tell the truth unless it absolutely figures and make sure you get a good price.

New Coins

Cairo (AP)—The Egyptian government has replaced coins with the effigy of former King Farouk by new ones. The new silver coins bear on one face the sign of the Egyptian revolution—an eagle. On the other side is engraved the amount of the coins and the name of the Egyptian republic. Also a 25 piasters (about 71 cents) coin commemorating the nationalization of the Suez Canal will be issued soon, says a government official.

Tough jobs demand a Universal 'Jeep'

Traction. 4-wheel drive gives the extra traction for traveling up steep grades or broken ground. The 'Jeep' is built to stand up and take it in tough usage.

Mobile power. With power take-off, the Universal 'Jeep' provides mobile power for operating welders, compressors, generators and many other kinds of specialized equipment.

Hydraulic lift. With hydraulic lift, the 4-wheel drive 'Jeep' operates graders, scrapers, post hole diggers and most 3-point hitch implements.

Now a 'Jeep' with longer wheelbase—the new model CJ-6. Carries larger, bulkier loads; has all the features that made the 'Jeep' famous.

A 4-Wheel-Drive Universal 'Jeep' takes you to the job, wherever it is—on the road or off! This rugged performer carries men and equipment over the highway in conventional 2-wheel drive. Then, when work calls for travel off the road—through mud, sand or snow, up hill or down—you shift a single lever for the extra traction of 4-wheel drive. With power take-off, or hydraulic lift, the Universal 'Jeep' does an almost endless variety of jobs. To find out what it can do for you, ask for a demonstration.

Adirondack Will Leave Dixie for New Terminal

Adirondack Transit Lines, Inc., which put new 41-passenger buses into service this week, announced today that effective April 1 the company will change its New York city terminal from Dixie Bus Terminal to the Port Authority Bus Terminal, 41st street and Eighth avenue.

The bus company indicated the change in terminals "will shorten the trip to New York by approximately 10 minutes, in each direction, making the running time to New York two hours."

To Start New Run

An additional run between Kingston and New York will be inaugurated, the company said, leaving Kingston at 10 a. m. daily and returning from New York at 5:30 p. m.

With this additional trip, Adirondack Trailways will be running 10 round trips between Kingston and New York city plus additional runs on weekends and holidays.

The seven new diesel powered, air suspension ride buses were manufactured by General Motors and are equipped with the most modern ventilating, heating and air conditioning systems.

Cost Is $270,000

The buses were purchased at a total cost of $270,000, the company reported.

They are equipped with four-position reclining seats plus adjustable head rests and power steering.

The company also announced the local terminal at 495 Broadway is being completely renovated and modernized. It is expected to be open on or about April 15, the company said.

Rescued Nine Reach Port

Boston, March 13 (AP) — Nine men who drifted in a lifeboat for 44 hours after their vessel sank off Cape Sable, Nova Scotia, were brought to Boston today by the coast guard vessel which saved them. The men scrambled to the lifeboat about a half hour before the Canadian freighter Patricia Sweeney keeled over to starboard and sank. The crew said the vessel's 540-ton cargo of coal shifted in the holds and caused the freighter to tip over.

Plane With 49 Gets Bomb Tip

New York, March 13 (AP)—A plane carrying 49 persons was grounded today by a bomb tip similar to the series of scare calls which plagued five major airlines yesterday.

Delta Airlines Flight 725 out of Newark, N. J., airport made an emergency landing at Baltimore, Md., after the firm's New York office received a telephone call that a bomb was on the aircraft.

Airport, county and state police searched the plane without finding anything. The flight was bound for Washington, Atlanta and New Orleans.

Delta was one of the previous victims of anonymous telephone warnings.

Vote on N-B Bridge Bill Is Expected Soon

A vote on the proposed Newburgh-Beacon bridge is expected "in a few days," it was learned today, after announcement yesterday that a bill on the project was reported out favorably by the Senate Finance Committee in Albany.

Senator Thomas Desmond, Republican member of the finance committee, yesterday reported favorable committee action on the bill, which is now on the general orders calendar of the Senate.

35,000 Sign Petitions

The Newburgh City Council on Monday also adopted a resolution asking favorable action on the measure so that preliminary work could start on the span this year.

Petitions have been circulated in the area, meanwhile, and the city plans to send a bus to Albany Thursday to let it be known that 35,000 have signed petitions asking for the span. The bus will bear signs noting this fact.

Assemblyman D. Clinton Dominick, 3rd, also reported that he has an appointment with Assembly Speaker Oswald D. Heck, so that the petition can be presented to back the bill, which would provide $1,500,000 for start of work on the span.

Mayor William D. Ryan said the bus is due to leave the Newburgh city hall at 8 a. m., Thursday. The petitions will be presented by Harry Cohen, a former member of the New York State Bridge Authority, and a member of the bridge committee of the Newburgh Auto Club, which started the petition campaign.

Former Hurler Dies

Atlanta, March 13 (AP)—Richard J. Niehaus, former big league baseball player died in the Veterans' Administration Hospital last night after a long illness. Niehaus served as trainer for the Atlanta Crackers of the Southern Assn., before he retired in 1950. He began playing professional baseball in 1910 and played his final season with Macon in the South Atlantic League about 1929. He pitched for Cleveland, the St. Louis Cards, Atlanta, Birmingham and Mobile in the Southern Assn., and several other clubs. Old timers recall he had a .444 batting average one season when he was with Cleveland but went to bat only a few times as a relief pitcher.

24 Cars Jump Tracks

Dundee, N. Y., March 13 (AP)—Twenty-four cars of a 130-car freight train jumped the tracks today and blocked the New York Central's freight line from Corning to Syracuse. There were no personal injuries. Railroad officials said a burned-out axle probably caused the wreck of the northbound freight near this Yates county community. They said wrecking crews expected to have the two-track line open by early tomorrow. Meanwhile, trains were being rerouted over Pennsylvania Railroad and Erie Railroad lines.

Decision Reserved

Rochester, N. Y., March 13 (AP)—The Appellate Division, Fourth Department, of State Supreme Court has reserved decision on a motion for a change of venue in the retrial of two Scotia men accused of killing a lumberjack in Herkimer county four years ago. Attorneys for John Nicoll, 28, and Ivan A. Fredericks, 27, asked the court to transfer the case to another Supreme Court district on the grounds that an impartial jury could not be obtained in Herkimer county. The defendants are accused of shooting Charles Friel, 25, of Morehouseville, during a quarrel.

Jet Liners Ordered

Washington, March 13 (AP) — Ralph Bell, director of transport sales for Boeing Airplane Co., said today 11 airlines have placed orders totaling more than 652 millon dollars for the new 707 jet transport. Six of the airlines are foreign operators and five domestic, Bell said. The 707 set a transport plane record Monday, flying from Seattle to Baltimore in 3 hours and 48 minutes. Bell said the first 707s will go to Pan American World Airways, late in 1958. That company ordered 23 planes costing a total of 135 million dollars.

Most Records Destroyed

Washington, March 13 (AP)—Reginald (Reg) Mikesell, secretary-treasurer of Portland, Ore., Joint Teamsters Council No. 37, testified today that most of the council's financial records wanted by Senate rackets investigators have been destroyed. Mikesell was the first witness called on the 10th hearing day of the investigation into an alleged plot by some teamsters union bosses, public officials and underworld elements to control Portland vice profits.

Motorist Pays $20

Stanley Brink Nicholas, 33, of Box 118, Bloomington, was arrested at 7:32 a. m., today by Officers Charles McCullough and George Dougherty on the Boulevard for speeding. He was fined $20 by City Judge Raymond J. Mino.

be given consideration and plans worked out by the executive committee. This may be a survey similar to the one taken in connection with the uptown one-way traffic last year.

It was decided to appoint a special committee to work with a similar committee on the Rhinebeck Chamber of Commerce to work for the best possible passenger service on the main line of the New York Central Railroad.

A proposal to appoint a special Chamber committee to work on problems affecting youth received serious consideration. It was decided to appoint representatives to the Uister County Council of Social Agencies and encourage consideration of any problems affecting youth through that agency rather than appoint a separate committee.

Plan School Visits

A proposal of the Industry-Education Committee to sponsor a "School Visitation Day" for area businessmen was approved. Plans will be made for a limited number of business and industrial representatives to visit the high school and participate in an afternoon program to be arranged by the school.

A special committee will be appointed to plan for a "sales clinic" for area businessmen.

The following five new applications were presented and approved: Marion V. Clarke, Millinery, 19½ Main street; Harry E. Coale, Jr., Kingston Telephone Answering Service, 9 Andrew street; Richard K. Curry, Socony Mobil Oil Company, 1 North street; June Dessler, Millinery, 279 Clinton avenue, and H. George Schmitt, Albany Avenue Nursing Home, 166 Albany avenue.

The names of delinquent memberships for the current fiscal year were reviewed and the directors agreed to contact those involved. This current fiscal year ends on April 30.

Mayor Stang, who is an ex-officio member of the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce board of directors, was present and spoke briefly on various matters affecting the city. He outlined the present status and need for planning on a city basis and then relating same to a regional plan for the entire area. He asked the Chamber for an expression of sentiment regarding parking meter fees and stated that final approval of plans for the original arterial route plan by federal and state agencies should be forthcoming in the near future.

Cases Heard In Supreme Court

A no cause verdict was returned in Supreme Court in the negligence action brought by Dioncia Torres against Kahn Pontiac Company of Newburgh. Plaintiff alleged the car was not properly serviced when turned over. Seymour Greenblatt appeared for plaintiff and Donald H. McCann for defendant.

A jury was selected on another automobile negligence action brought by Charles H. Boice against Joseph Scully and another. N. LeVan Haver for plaintiff and Cook and Cook with Francis X. Tucker as trial counsel. After a jury had been selected the case was settled.

A jury was selected and trial begun this morning in a negligence action, Robert Francis Connell against Gene Elter, Richter and Werbalowsky for plaintiff and John E. Asch with John Mulvey of Poughkeepsie as trial counsel.

Loses Appeal for Life

Hartford, Conn., March 13 (AP)—Frank Wojculewicz, convicted killer who is paralyzed from the waist down, has lost another appeal for his life. Superior Court Judge Richard H. Phillips rejected Wojculewicz's plea yesterday. Judge Phillips said there was no merit to Wojculewicz's claim that he did not receive a fair trial five years ago. The State Supreme Court has turned him down five times since his conviction on March 18, 1952. Wojculewicz shot and killed a policeman and a bystander in a holdup attempt at a new Britain packing firm. In the gun battle he was shot in the spine. Paralysis resulted from the wound.

Slip of the Tongue

Cheyenne, Wyo. (AP) — Radio announcer Keith Ashton's tongue slipped a little during his broadcast. "The 34th Wyoming legislature is now in its final week of lawbreaking," he said. After a short pause he backtracked: "Apparently that should be lawmaking."

destroyed four frame buildings, causing a loss estimated at approximately $200,000. On Monday night a three-story building was largely destroyed and another damaged in a fire which broke out in the basement of the Steinhoff five and ten cent store, 101 Canal street. Both fires were of undetermined origin.

Financial and Commercial

New York, March 13 (AP)—Stock market prices moved higher early this afternoon but trading continued slow.

The general range of advances by key stocks was from fractions to a point but some made wider gains.

The market was mixed at the opening. The higher tendency developed slowly with no pickup in trading.

Despite cutbacks in steel production by two more companies, the leading steel shares were steady to higher. Oils were stronger in the wake of recent profit-taking. Some fair gains were made by nonferrous metals. Leading rails however, were pretty well mixed.

On the American Stock Exchange stocks were generally higher in moderate trading.

Corporate bonds were narrowly lower in slow trading.

U. S. Government Bonds were slightly higher in light dealings.

Anita Goes to Sweden

Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, March 13 (AP) — Actress Anita Ekberg unexpectedly canceled plans to appear at a movie premiere here tonight and took a plane for her native Sweden. Her British husband, Anthony Steel, said there was sickness in the family. "I am leaving for Los Angeles tonight and will join her in Sweden in about four days," Steel told newsmen. "We are closing our California home. She is due to make a film in Paris shortly. . . . We did not have any fight. We are not breaking up."

Final Ford . . .

or elimination of essential services. The grants, therefore, have been designed to help in establishing, maintaining, or expanding services which, at the discretion of each hospital's authorities, are deemed vital to its community.

Construction Main Item

Henry T. Heald, president of the Foundation, said that on the basis of reports from recipient hospitals, more than half of the grant money is being used for new construction to provide beds for more patients. Next in order of use are the modernization of existing plants and the purchase of new equipment. Still other hospitals have elected to spend the major portion of their grants for the addition or expansion of research and training facilities. In numerous cases, grant funds are making available hospital services, such as cardiac clinics, radio-therapy facilities, and maternity and pediatric care, which had formerly been unavailable throughout a whole community or a whole state.

Dr. Albert W. Snoke, president of the American Hospital Association, who has observed at firsthand the application of grants to local problems, yesterday said: "As I travel about the nation, I am impressed with the way the grants are making it possible for hospitals to improve and extend their community services. As a result of the grants, some of the hospitals have already been able to qualify for approval by the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Hospitals, an achievement signifying a high standard of patient care. Because the Ford Foundation grant program has focused public attention on hospital services and needs, many communities are showing increased enthusiasm for supporting their hospitals."

Urges Local Support

Mr. Heald urged communities to continue to support their local hospitals. "As the Foundation program approaches completion," he said, "it is increasingly clear that the job of providing adequate hospital care for our citizens is far too big for any one agency or organization. Its accomplishment depends on how well these needs are understood by private citizens and organizations and on their willingness to contribute ideas, time, and financial support to the joint community effort. If the Foundation grants help stimulate such local initiative, they will have accomplished their purpose."

British Doctor's Trial Set Monday On Drug Deaths

London, March 13 (AP) — Dr. John Bodkin Adams, accused of drugging rich elderly patients to death to benefit from their wills, goes on trial next Monday in London's Old Bailey Court.

The 58-year-old physician who practiced in the southeast coast resort of Eastbourne, will stand trial for the killing of an 81-year-old widow. The prosecution has also charged him with causing the deaths of two other patients.

Adams stood in the dock of the famed criminal court to hear the application for trial. He wore a blue suit and white stiff collar and bowed to the judge.

The trial had been postponed previously at the request of the doctor's attorney.

Adams is accused of poisoning Mrs. Edith Morrell in 1950 for a legacy. Her body was cremated and the ashes scattered over the English Channel.

Adams was committed to trial in January by an Eastbourne magistrate's court.

Cackleburg Fine Novelty For Meatless Luncheon

HAMBURGS WITHOUT meat, cackleburgs provide tasty and economical nutrition. Serve with carrot slices and celery.

By GAYNOR MADDOX,
NEA Food and Markets Editor

This is the wide-open season for fine quality fresh eggs. Our hens are laying at a higher rate than last year and eggs are on the plentiful list. Therefore this wonderful source of protein is now a budget buy. Eggs make delicious meatless dishes for Lent.

Cackleburgs (Makes 4 cackleburg sandwiches)

One-quarter cup minced onion; 3 tablespoons fat; 2 cups soft bread crumbs, firmly packed; ½ cup milk; 4 hard-cooked eggs, chopped; 1 teaspoon salt; ½ teaspoon celery seed; ⅛ teaspoon ground pepper ⅓ cup minced parsley; 4 hamburger buns; carrot slices; celery sticks.

Cook onion over low heat in 1 tablespoon of the fat until it is golden brown.

Add bread crumbs and milk. Stir and cook slowly until thoroughly blended and thick, about 2 minutes. Remove from heat.

Add eggs, salt, celery seed, pepper and parsley.

Spread on waxed paper or plate to cool. Shape into 4 cackleburgs.

Pan-fry in the remaining fat (2 tablespoons), turning once to brown both sides.

Serve with carrot slices, celery sticks, or favorite relish.

Golden Egg Casserole
(Makes 9 to 12 servings)

Twelve finely chopped hard-cooked eggs, ¼ cup diced pimiento, ½ cup minced celery with leaves, 2 cups (¼ pound) finely crushed crackers, 2 cups mayonnaise, 1 teaspoon salt, 1½ teaspoons garlic salt, ¾ teaspoon ground pepper, ½ cup milk. Topping: Three-quarters cup cracker crumbs, ¼ cup melted butter or margarine.

Blend all ingredients except the topping. Spread in 2-quart shallow greased casserole.

Top with cracker crumbs blended with butter.

Bake in a hot oven (400 degrees F.) 25 minutes or until golden brown. Serve hot.

TOMORROW'S DINNER: Blended tomato and grapefruit juise, cackleburgs, French fried potatoes, buttered spinach, celery, raw carrot sticks, blueberry pie, cheese, coffee, tea, milk.

MODENA NEWS

Modena, March 12 — The March meeting of the public health nursing committee of the town of Plattekill was held Monday night at the home of the secretary, Mrs. Simon DuBois. Those attending were public health nurse, Mrs. Helen Kent and her assistant, Miss Otterstedt; Mrs. Lillian Courter, Mrs. William Decker, Mrs. Roy Jensen, Mrs. Frank M. Coy, Mrs. Stewart Pink and the hostess Mrs. DuBois. Material was cut and prepared for cancer dressings to be completed at a community sewing project, sponsored by the nursing committee to be held Wednesday, March 20, at the Hasbrouck Memorial Hall. The next regular meeting of the committee will be held Monday, April 1, at 8 p. m. at the home of Mrs. William Gilmore at Ardonia. Mrs. Gilmore, Mrs. Earl B. DeWitt Sr., Mrs. Fred Bernard and Mrs. Frank Coy of Modena, Ira Merwin, Ralph Garcia and Henry Dawes of Plattekill, attended a demonstration of a mobile emergency unit at the Armory in Middletown, Wednesday, arranged by the Civil Defense authorities. Members of the unit assisted in the child-health consultation and pre-school child clinic Monday at the Hasbrouck Memorial Hall.

The Official Board of the Modena Methodist Church enjoyed a covered dish supper, preceding their regular business meeting, Monday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Tice.

The Wesleyan Service Guild will meet tonight at the home of Mrs. Burton R. Ward, with Mrs. Louis Hyatt in charge of devotions and the program.

Regular meeting of the Plattekill Town Board is scheduled for Wednesday, March 13, at 8 p. m. at the Town Building in Modena.

An all-day meeting of the Womans Society of Christian Service of the Modena Methodist Church, held Thursday at the Hasbrouck Memorial Hall, resulted in the completion of the preparation of material for woven rugs for this season. A box-lunch was provided at noon, and a business session at 2:30 was in charge of the president, Mrs. Eldred Smith. Others attending were Mrs. Earl B. DeWitt Sr., Mrs. Cleveland Nohearn, Mrs. William Decker, Mrs. Floyd B. Wells, Mrs. Joseph Simmons, Mrs. John E. Swords, and a visitor, Mrs. Frank M. Coy. The place of the next meeting Thursday, April 4, will be announced. The date of the next clam chowder sale is Friday, April 12.

Miss Caroles Coy and Miss Patricia Pink were hostesses at a stork shower honoring Mrs. James Veasaw Feb. 28 at the Coy home, here. Decorations were in pink and blue. Guests attending were the Mmes. Ralph Tice, Floyd B. Wells, Frank M. Coy, Stewart Pink, Richard Coy, Leonard Coy, DuBois Grimm, Herbert Winters, Leslie Turner, John E. Swords, Dan Allen, Miss Eileen Coy and the hostesses.

Those unable to attend but sending gifts were Miss Genevieve Smith, Miss Nancy Black, Greta Muller, Mrs. Henry Black, Miss Kate Locke, Miss Eleanor Gruman, Mrs. LeRoy Gruman, Mrs. Selwyn Lozier, Mrs. Edward Koonz, Mrs. Charles Smith, Mrs. Blanche Reddy, Mrs. Joan Fanelli, Mrs. Anna Hiller and the girls at Vassar Hospital, where Mrs. Veasaw was previously employed.

The members of the Intermediate Methodist Youth Fellowship are planning a St. Patrick's Day party and dance to be held Saturday night, March 16, at 7:30, in Hasbrouck Memorial Hall.

Mrs. Walter Lofink, as counselor of the group, was presented with a corsage, in recognition of her services, for which she expressed appreciation to the young people.

Members of the Modena Methodist Church choir are urged to attend choir rehearsals held each Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. at the parsonage, in preparation for the Lenten song service.

Announcement is made of the engagement of Miss Gerdi Gundel, of Munich, Germany, to First Lt. Gordon S. Pink, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Pink of Modena. The wedding will take place May 1, in Munich, Germany. Lt. Pink, a graduate of the Wallkill Central School, has been stationed in Germany and France during the past two years.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Paltridge are the parents of a daughter, born Thursday, March 7, at Kingston.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph E. Hasbrouck, who have been vacationing in Florida, are expected to return home this week.

Miss Glennie M. Wager visited Mr. and Mrs. John J. Davis in Lloyd Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Simon DuBois visited their son, Robert DuBois and family in New Paltz, Thursday evening.

Local members of the Plattekill Lions Club attended the March meeting held at the Oddo House, Route 44-55 Wednesday evening. Plans were completed for the annual smorgasbord, to be served at the Oddo House Saturday, March 30, with Fred A. Fowler of Modena, as chairman of general arrangements.

The Rev. John E. Swords, pastor of the Modena and Clintondale Methodist Church, will deliver a sermon on the subject "Disciples Called Christians" at services to be held Sunday, March 17, in the local parish.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Atchinson, who have been spending the past months in Vallejo, Calif., are expected to return to their home in Modena in April.

The Rev. John E. Swords, lecturer of the Clintondale Grange, announces that members of the organization extend an invitation to fruit farmers and workers in the fruit industry to attend a meeting to be held Monday, March 18, at 8 p. m. at the Grange Hall. At this time, William H. Palmer, Ulster county agricultural agent, of Kingston, will speak on "The Trends in the Fruit Growing Industry."

The Modena unit of the Ulster County Home Extension Service will meet Tuesday, March 19, at 8 p. m. at the home of Edna Harcourt, Ardonia, with Helen Eichler as hostess. The project for the evening's program is entitled "Let's Know Our Foreign Neighbors," when two students from the New Paltz State Teachers College, Marcela de Villeda of Bolivia and Helen Apostolous of Greece will speak. The meeting is open to the public and anyone interested is invited to attend.

Caught Cat

Lisbon, Ohio (AP)—Maybe Mrs. William Vaughn and her neighbor Robert Adkins in East Liverpool didn't invent washing machines, but as far as Hector, the Persian cat is concerned, they share responsibility.

Hector's tail got caught in the gears of Mrs. Vaughn's washing machine, When she tried to free him, Hector let her have it with his claws. Then Adkins tried. Same result.

O. E. Scott, city dog warden, finally got Hector loose. From past experience, Scott uses leather gloves.

ELLENVILLE NEWS

Town Notes

Ellenville, March 12—Norman Silver, proprietor of Norman's Barber Shop on Market street, destroyed by fire last week, is negotiating with Julius Hochstein for the purchase of the Hochstein Barber Shop of Center street.

Mrs. Louisa Van Kleeck, who makes her home with her daughter, Mrs. Florence MacDonald in Poughkeepsie, arrived Sunday to spend a few weeks with her sister, Mrs. Arker Kelder in Napanoch.

Preston Irwin of Honk Hill is at the Veteran's Memorial Hospital, Ellenville. It was reported Sunday that he is slowly improving. Mr. Irwin had been ill for over two weeks.

The many friends of George Davenport, son of Mrs. Michael Davenport of Napanoch, are pleased to hear that he is convalescing very satisfactorily at his home in Kingston. Mr. Davenport was severely injured in a skidding car accident near Accord several weeks ago and for many days was on the critical list at the Kingston Hospital.

Herbert Daniels, proprietor of the Daniels Department Store in Napanoch has been home for over a week with illness. During his absence from the store, it is being managed by his wife, the former Cecilia Rosenberger of Ellenville.

Mike Spaldi, proprietor of Spaldi's Gas Station in Napanoch, and prominent in the activities of the Wawarsing Sportsmen's Association has been at the University Hospital, 20th street and Second avenue, Room 378 in New York city for the past week for treatment. The secretary of the Sportsmen requests that its members send cards of cheer to him this week. George Mechler, on vacation from his position at the Napanoch Institution is in charge of the gas station. Mrs. Spaldi is staying at the home of her father in New Jersey and commutes daily to the New York Hospital to be with her husband.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry A. Fischang, their daughter, Mrs. Henry Fischang Jr., and her two children, spent Sunday afternoon visiting at the home of Mrs. Arker Kelder in Napanoch. Mrs. Fischang Sr. is a niece of Mrs. Kelder.

Mr. and Mrs. Grant William Lowe and family have moved from an apartment on Leurenkill road, Ellenville to an apartment in the former Rose Levitt property at 42 Canal street, this village.

Russ Gobel of Napanoch is a patient at the Veterans Memorial Hospital, Ellenville.

Mrs. Elmon La Forge is at Jackson Memorial Hospital, 608 West Howard street, Dade City, Fla. Mrs. La Forge and her husband maintain a home here in Ellenville and every year spend the winter in Florida. Mrs. La Forge is the mother of Mrs. Matthew C. Van Keuren of 6 Maiden lane, Ellenville.

George Graham, nephew of Miss Ella Graham of this village has again been placed on the Dean's List at the Rennselear Polytechnic Institute, Troy.

The local Girl Scouts are celebrating Girl Scout Week and as a part of their activities are making their house to house sale of Girl Scout Cookies. This is an easy way to give to this good cause as the quality of the cookies is excellent and everyone benefits, the purchasers as well as the salesladies.

Mr. and Mrs. Le Roy Griffin and Mrs. Mabel C. Schoonmaker visited friends in Monticello, Sunday.

Dog Is Giveaway, Three Boys Are Caught in Shop

A small black dog proved the undoing of three Town of Rosendale boys on a small crime spree early last night after they had broken into a school and a gift shop.

The Ulster county sheriff's office received a call about 9:30 a. m. that three boys had been caught inside the gift shop at Williams Lake.

Employes of the establishment operated by Walter Williams noted as they were leaving the lake that a small black dog was apparently waiting outside a window of the gift shop. Investigating, they found that a storm window had been removed from the window.

Inside were three boys — all about 12 years old—with their pockets stuffed with candy. They had also taken a small amount of money in coins which were kept in an open box in the shop.

County Investigator Arthur Brown was notified and went to the lake, returning the boys to the sheriff's office for questioning.

Mr. Brown said the trio also admitted entering the Cottekill School earlier in the evening and taking about $3 in cash from a desk drawer. They entered the school through a window, he said.

Two dollars of this amount was recovered according to Mr. Brown.

He said the cash register at the gift shop had not been tampered with.

The three boys will be brought into children's court to face both charges. They were turned over to their parents.

One side of the halibut fish is light, the other dark.

Po'keepsie Man Faces Charges For Tavern Mishap

A 26-year-old Poughkeepsie man will be arraigned on three charges tonight resulting from a mishap late Tuesday evening when he drove a pickup truck onto the porch of the Tank and Tummy, a tavern on Route 9W in the town of Esopus.

Raymond Twyman will be arraigned on charges of public intoxication, driving while his license was revoked and driving at an endangering speed.

He was arrested by Troopers T. J. Crowley and Harvey Miller of the Highland state police about 10:15 p. m.

Troopers reported that Mr. Twyman was proceeding north on 9W when the 1950 pickup truck he was driving went off the left side of the highway. The truck is owned by the Poughkeepsie Wrecking Co.

The vehicle continued its course, striking several signs and the concrete steps and porch of the tavern, coming to rest on the porch.

Troopers said the vehicle was almost inside the tavern.

The signs knocked down were those advertising gas and oil, ice cream, etc.

Mr. Twyman suffered several small lacerations of the nose and face. He was committed to the Ulster county jail pending hearing at 7 p. m. today before Justice of the Peace Francis E. Palen, Jr., of Port Ewen.

OCS Adult Group To Sponsor Course On Radioactivity

The Onteora Adult Education Advisory Committee has announced that on Thursday evening, from 7:30 to 9:30 p. m., an adult course entitled, "Radioactive Fallout" will be presented for the benefit of area residents.

This course will give consideration to problems of atomic and radiation and defense against same. The Federal Civil Defense Administration and the New York State Bureau of Adult Education recommends that such course be conducted throughout the more than 650 communities in the state sponsoring adult education programs.

John H. Moehle, formerly chief of civil defense for schools in New York state, will serve as the class instructor. The two hour course primarily will be used on materials provided by the federal government, including a film strip presentation. Additionally, it is expected that Mr. Moehle will describe the details of his recent trip to England and Germany. The trip, sponsored by the Civil Defense Administration, included complete study of the protection and evacuation of civilians under war time conditions.

Pullout Completed

Tel Aviv, March 13 (AP)—Israeli army headquarters today announced the last Israeli soldiers and equipment have pulled out of the Sharm El Sheikh area on the Gulf of Aqaba. The withdrawal was completed last night. The main Israeli exacuation from Sharm El Sheikh was carried out last Friday and the area was turned over to Finnish troops of the UN Emergency Force (UNEF).

Van Doren Gets Pay Hike

New York, March 13 (AP) — Charles Van Doren, winner of $129,000 in television quiz show appearances, is getting a $100-a-year salary increase as a Columbia University instructor. The pay boost, effective July 1, will make his salary $4,500 a year. But tax authorities estimate that he will be able to keep only about $28,795 of his combined winnings and old salary.

Avalanches Kill Six

Tokyo, March 13 (AP) — Avalanches in Japan killed six persons yesterday. Four college student skiers were swept to their deaths by a snow slide in the mountains northwest of Tokyo. Two others escaped. They were searching for a lost friend. An avalanche crushed a dormitory at a mine near Aomori, killing two persons and injuring six.

Blast Kills One

Hornell, N. Y., March 13 (AP)—A gas explosion in an Erie Railroad switchmen's building yesterday killed a maintenance crew foreman and injured seven other men, one critically. The blast occurred as a maintenance crew was investigating a report that natural gas was leaking into the small, prefabricated steel structure. Fred Hartman, 52, of Canisteo, the foreman, was killed in the explosion, and Elmer Smalt, 51, also of Canisteo, was injured critically. Five other employes in the building at the time were in good or fair condition at St. James Mercy Hospital. A man near the building at the time of the explosion was treated for minor injuries.

Electrol Workers Are Back at Jobs

A "sitdown" at Electrol Incorporated ended as the night shift reported yesterday at the hydraulics plant, 85 Grand street.

The day crew reportedly refused to work until a tool designer joined the International Association of Machinists, which has a local at the plant.

It was their contention that he should comply with union demands that he sign up after a 30-day period, which is mandatory.

A spokesman for Electrol said the men were ordered back to work by Fred H. Coonley, general vice president of the IAM, because the designer was not employed by Electrol, but was in the plant for another concern.

He said that work was in progress as usual.

Search for Air Tanker

Tokyo, March 13 (AP)—U. S. Navy planes combed the Western Pacific today, seeking a U. S. Air Force tanker plane missing with 10 crewmen aboard. In central Japan a four-man air force medical team parachuted to a mountain spot about four miles from what was believed to be the wreckage of a missing C47 transport. Four men had been aboard the C47. The aerial tanker, a KB50, left Yokota Air Base just west of Tokyo Tuesday night (8:30 a. m. EST) and was scheduled to reach Wake 7½ hours later. The air force announced it was missing after it reckoned all its fuel was gone and no report was received of its landing.

Woman's Torso Found

New York, March 13 (AP)—The torso of a woman was found yesterday in a cement bag alongside the Hutchinson River Parkway in the Bronx. She apparently was a Negro, about 35. Dr. Charles Hochman, deputy medical examiner, said the limbs and head had been severed "with a professional touch." Other parts of the body were found two hours later, some 200 yards away. Hochman said the woman had been dead about a week. The bag was discovered by a park department employe who was filling ruts along the parkway shoulder.

Man Dies in Fire

New York, March 13 (AP)—One man was burned to death in a rooming house fire in Brooklyn today and eight other occupants of the house and two firemen suffered smoke poisoning. The fatality was John Maltese, 41. Those affected by smoke were treated at Coney Island Hospital. Cause of the fire, discovered at 4 a. m., was not immediately determined. Two fire alarms were sounded. Firemen reported heavy damage to the three-story frame building at 168 Bay 17th street, in the Bath Beach section.

Egyptian Return

strip," the prime minister declared. He charged that Egypt got the Gaza Strip in the first place by making war on Israel in 1947 in "violation of the UN Charter."

"I must add with regret," Ben-Gurion continued, "that Dr. Bunche's superiors in the UN have sometimes been more concerned with the prestige of the Egyptian dictator than with the fulfillment of Egypt's international obligations or the preservation of peace in the Middle East."

Before his statement Ben-Gurion won what were virtually two votes of confidence. The Knesset defeated two opposition proposals for a debate 51-24 and 53-44.

O & W Hearing Is Slated Thursday On Profit Setup

With no solution in sight for the bankrupt New York, Ontario and Western Railway's search for a profit-making formula, another hearing will be held before Federal Judge Sylvester J. Ryan in New York city tomorrow. The meeting will be at 2:15 p. m. in the U. S. District Court House.

A meeting was held at Middletown on March 8 for the purpose of stirring up shippers in the community groups to increase business of the line. An effort to get back freight business in February was none too successful. February 1956 the daily average receipts for the line was $31,000 and in February of this year the revenue had dropped to $24,500. For the first six days of March 1956 the average receipts was $28,000 and for the like period this year the receipts averaged $19,900.

A 10 per cent increase in business is necessary to put the operations in the black. Shippers are urged to increase their business by rail to a point where the O & W may continue operations. If business is not increased or a government subsidy granted, the line may have to close down early in April.

Sawyer Show Is Slated March 22

A program of music and readings will be presented for the "Sawyer Spectacular" Friday, March 22 at 8 p. m. at the Saugerties High School auditorium. The program under the supervision of Eugene La Plante is being presented for the benefit of "The Sawyer", the high school yearbook.

Both vocal and instrumental selections will be presented for the musical portion of the program. Mrs. Herman Knaust, Mrs. James Dargan, Miss Eleanor Witherill and Eugene La Plante will sing vocal solos. Miss Witherill and Mr. La Plante will also sing a duet from "Carmen". The Girls' Sextette of the high school will sing a group of selections.

Instrumental numbers will be played by Mrs. Roland Tonnesen and Miss Mildred Brady. Mrs. Tonnesen will play piano solos and Miss Brady will perform on the violin.

A mono-drama will be presented by Mrs. George Werner.

The public is invited to attend this program. Tickets will go on sale soon and may be purchased from many school students.

More TB . . .

staff included 34 bronchograms, 115 tomograms, 43 skin tests, 18 pulmonary function studies and 18 gastric intestinal studies.

In addition, there were 1,161 outpatient visits for drug injections or dispensing, of which 225 were for PAS and INH; 246 for streptomycin vials and 690 patients received injections, Dr. Schwartz noted.

Cost Comparison

Total cost of operation for the year was $220,067 compared with $200,804 in 1955. Of the total, $147,054 was for salaries and $73,013 for other expenses. Miscellaneous receipts and deductible expenses of $19,905 reduced the operating cost to $200,162 for the year, or $11.85 per patient day, Dr. Schwartz said.

Of the operating expenses, $21,398 was for food $10,174 for utilities and $12,306 for medical supplies and drugs.;

Report on Aid

The report indicated $86,401 was received in New York state aid; $5,565 for care of out-county patients; $5,541 from other miscellaneous sources and $8,354 from employes for maintenance—a total of $105,861.

The total net cost to Ulster county for the year was $114,206, the report noted.

Of the total operating cost of $220,067, it was reported $147,054 was paid in salaries to employes, and $55,855 to local hospitals, business and professional services, leaving only $17,158 spent outside the county, Dr. Schwartz said.

There were 45 full-time and seven part-time employes as of Dec. 31, 1956, the report concluded.

Girl Scout News

Sandra Buehring of Kingston, and Rosalyn Berenbaum of Kerhonkson, members of the Ulster County Senior Girl Scout Planning Board, were elected Ulster county's official delegates to the Third New York-New Jersey Senior Planning Boards Conference and Greater New York's Annual Senior Conference to be held in New York city April 23 and 24. The voting took place at the county-wide planning board session held recently at the Governor Clinton Hotel. Attendance at the conference is limited to two representatives from each Sr. Planning Board within New York and New Jersey. The local delegates are being sponsored by the Ulster County Council of Girl Scouts and the Senior Troops. They will be accompanied by Mrs. Donovan Buehring, Ulster county senior Girl Scout adviser.

All representatives are invited to be guests in the homes of New York city senior scouts while they are in New York. The scout hostesses will meet their visitors and accompany them at all times. Upon the day of arrival, Monday, April 21, all representatives with their hostesses will be guests for dinner between 4 and 8:30 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Irving Berlin. Mrs. Berlin, wife of the famed composer, is a vice president of the Girl Scout Council of Greater New York.

The conference will get underway on Tuesday morning at the Hotel New Yorker with the day devoted to discussions and tours of the city. Wednesday's session will convene at the Joan of Arc Jr. High School. The day's program will include discussions, fashion show, films, speakers, games, square dancing.

At Saturday's session, Carolee Leware of Kingston was re-elected president of the county planning board. Other officers elected were: Rosalyn Berenbaum of Kerhonkson, vice president; Katherine Hammesfahr of Wallkill, recording secretary; Sandra Buehring of Kingston, corresponding secretary; Shirley Downs of Kerhonkson, treasurer; and Dianna Costantino of Highland, historian.

Other representatives to the planning board, elected by their troops are: Beth Pembrose of Kingston and Lynn Jefree of Highland.

Major events planned for the spring season include the Senior Girl Scout annual Ivy Ball scheduled for May 11 at the Kate Walton Field House, Kingston, and a Senior Scout Camporee to be held at Camp Wendy, Wallkill, on June 1 and 2. Weekend activities will be under the direction of Carolee Leware, Katherine Hammesfahr and Esther Wolf, of New Paltz, Ulster county's delegates to the National Senior Girl Scout Roundup staged at Detroit, Michigan, last summer.

National and International opportunities for senior scouts were presented to the group. The board decided to solicit the interest and participation of the county's senior troops in a trip to the Juliette Low Birthplace, now the Eastern Seaboard National Girl Scout Center, in the spring of 1958.

The Kerhonkson troop proposed the initiation of a three year project, at the termination of which county senior scouts would visit the International Girl Scout Chalet at Switzerland. Troops within neighboring Councils have undertaken this venture successfully with money-raising affairs for the project jointly sponsored by the senior and adult scouts.

SS Estimate

Chicago, March 12 (AP)—A government welfare executive today estimated that more than 90 per cent of Americans 65 or older will be getting Social Security payments within the next few decades. The prediction was made by Robert J. Myers, chief actuary of the Social Security Administration. He spoke at a conference on the costs of employe pensions and other benefits sponsored by the American Management Assn. He said in a prepared address that many persons of 65 or older retired or became available under the old age survivors and disability insurance program.

"Why don't you pull up a chair and join us?"

DO YOU REMEMBER

By SOPHIE MILLER

My readers are wonderful. They brought it to my attention to read the "20 and 10 years ago column" in the Thursday, March 7th Freeman before I even opened it.

It reads in part in the 20 years ago: "March 7th, 1937—Mayor C. J. Heiselman informed the Carnegie Foundation that funds were not available to relieve present congestion at the local library." A short time ago there was made mention in this column that so many public buildings have grown in all directions, but the Kingston City Library sits like a bump on a log without its outer walls growing even one inch since its erection.

Later a reader loaned me statistics to prove that the number of books in our one and only library, the equipment, nor facilities have grown in proportion with other cities our size.

So is was nearly a quarter of a century ago that there was already a crying need to extend the walls of our library to "relieve present congestion." I guess they did not sing loud enough to be heard around and about.

Glenn Kerfoot of the ET News sent me some interesting items, one mentioning Hon. A. T. Clearwater our late historian and still well-known for his "History of Ulster County" which has been loaned to me now and then, but I would like to own. Perhaps someday I will be able to buy a copy. One old newspaper Mr. Kerfoot sent is The Portland Transcript of February 28, 1874. One of the items reads: "One fact brought out at the late meeting of the Maine Historical Society at Bath, shows that this vicinity comes honestly by its shipbuilding.

The first vessel built in this country, was constructed at Hunnewell's Point, by George Popham, in 1607, 13 years before the landing of the Pilgrims at Plymouth. It was a vessel of 30 tons, and was named the "Virginia." It takes an old newspaper to bring out a fact like that.

From time to time you hear that if the youngsters could be allowed to work as was the custom in those days there would be less juvenile delinquents. No doubt after such efforts as the following a youngster in those days had only one desire to eat something warm and drop off to sleep. "At Parker's Head they load and dispatch a schooner with 300 tons of ice for New York, in 12 hours, with a crew of 18 men and boys, and one horse. Six schooners came for cargoes of ice last week." It was no different in 1874 right her along the Hudson river in Port Ewen and in Kingston and other nearby places which had ice-houses.

It was said then, "They went away boys and came back men." During the ice-harvesting many boys were taken by their fathers to work on the ice during the height of the season. They worked with the men and ate with the men with little time for anything else. I have yet to hear any of th old-times, who did work on the ice around here when they were boys, regret it.

The following may interest the construction trade. It may also give one a clue how old some houses are. "Wire netting for plastering as a substitute for lath is now being introduced. It takes less labor, is more continuous, and will not burn. Coarse netting with one inch mesh made of strong wire is best. Secured to iron studding in a brick building our greatest danger of fire would be reduced." Item reads in part in the Portland Transcript 1874.

The sensitive modern "electric eye" photoelectric cell was developed at the University of Illnois in 1913.

Health for All

HOW DO YOU LIVE?

Remember the old fable of the city mouse and the country mouse? They learned by bitter experience how important where you live is to your health.

Modern research has given us some more definite information on the effect environment has on two of the most serious menaces to health: mental disorders and tuberculosis.

A study made in New York city showed that tuberculosis is most common in areas of poor housing and low income. For example, in crowded Manhattan there was an average of 665 cases of TB for every 100,000 citizens for the years 1949, 1950, and 1951. In the residential borough of Queens the rate was only 252 per 100,000. Median family income in Manhattan in 1950 was $3,073 in comparison with $4,121 in Queens. In Manhattan 18.5 per cent of homes were dilapidated, while only 4.7 of the Queens housing was rated so low.

Living in crowded city areas seems also to increase the chances of developing mental illness. A study made in New York state showed a higher prevalence of hospitalization for mental disorders in cities than in rural areas. This was true of general paresis, dementia praecox, psychoses of old age, and manic-depressive psychoses.

It's practically impossible to disentagle the maze of environmental factors responsible for this situation, but certainly the stresses and strains of life in large centers of population are important ones. There's evidence, too, that a higher standard of living gives a better chance of avoiding mental illness.

It's obvious from these facts that the fight against diseases such as TB and mental illness involves not only the front-line medical troops. All of us are part of the effort to maintain and improve the American standard of living in which we take such pride.

This column is sponsored in the interest of better health by the Ulster County TB & Health Association, 74 John street.

NEW DISCOVERY FOR DEEP-SEATED CHEST COLDS AND COUGHS—

Speeds heat to cold-congested areas ...makes your own chest a vaporizer!

New Super Anahist Deep-Penetrating Rub also does what vapors cannot do... sends medication directly into the chest to loosen congestion!

Doctors know that up to now there has been nothing better for a cold than the penetration of plenty of vapors, created by a vaporizing machine.

Now, at last, a new rub has been developed with a heat-generating ingredient so remarkable it makes your own chest act like a vaporizer. Super Anahist Deep-Penetrating Rub gives the most effective medicated vapors possible today, without a vaporizing machine.

MORE CONCENTRATED RELIEF

IN THE VAPOR

Super Anahist Rub's rich, highly medicated vapors rise off the chest—pour into mouth, nose and throat with soothing warmth—work deep down to chest.

IN THE RUB

At the same time, Super Anahist Rub does its work inside the chest—creates heat—speeds the flow of rich, red blood to break up congestion.

And Super Anahist Rub does what vapors cannot do. It has a direct chest-penetrating action to loosen congestion.

Thus you get wonderful relief two ways—vapors pour into your nose, mouth, throat and chest, spreading relieving medication throughout the upper respiratory system and down into the chest. At the same time, Super Anahist Rub's penetrating action goes into the chest and bronchial tract. Chest congestion loosens, stuffed-up head and nasal passages grow clearer, aches and pains subside.

Thousands of mothers have told us of the wonderful relief they got with Super Anahist Rub. It is stainless, clear, easy to apply. Get Super Anahist Rub!

Russian Drills

Moscow (AP) — Petroleum engineers claim a new improvement on Russia's turbo-drills which American experts tested and found superior to those now used in American drilling. The lower and upper sections of the drills are now joined at an angle of two degrees instead of vertically. The result, says engineer A. A. Movsumov, who proposed the change, is greater ease in sinking inclined wells and to make changes in the direction and curvature of well shafts.

Dispute Still Exists But Workmen Back

Cornwall, Ont., March 13 (AP)—A labor dispute that tied up construction of a suspension bridge across the St. Lawrence river for about six weeks still has not been settled, a union spokesman says.

He said yesterday, however, that he did not expect another walkout by the workers, who returned to their jobs last week.

It had been expected that a contract would be signed then by the International Union of Operating Engineers and the MacNamara Construction Co., holder of the contract to build the sub-structure of the seven-million-dollar span. The spokesman said a minor hitch had developed. But did not elaborate.

The union struck last Jan. 21.

The bridge will connect Cornwall Island with the United States mainland.

Queens Man Named For Claims Court Post

Albany, N. Y., March 13 (AP)—Gov. Harriman today sent to the Senate the nomination of Alexander Del Giorno of Astoria, Queens, to a nine-year term on the state Court of Claims.

The Democratic governor also sent to the Senate, the reappointment of Samuel G. Staff of New York city to the State Insurance Fund.

Del Giorno, a Democrat, has been a New York city magistrate. He served in the Assembly from 1944 until he resigned in January, 1952 to take the magistrate's appointment.

Del Giorno will fill a post that has been vacant for almost two years. Court of Claims judges are paid $20,000 a year.

Staff was named to a three-year term ending Dec. 31, 1959. The eight commissioners, who administer the Workmen's Compensation Fund, receive $40 a day for attendance at meetings and up to $1,000 a year for traveling expenses.

Distinguished Caller

Stillwater, Okla. (AP)—First it was skunks invading Stillwater in search of food. And then workers in the municipal building got even a bigger start when a white, furry animal started walking around. Patrolmen Don Prickett and Oscar Davis cornered the animal and it was identified as an albino opposum—a real rarity in these parts.

Think It Through

By E. F. HUTTON

INTERESTING QUESTION

Suppose you were asked to debate the question whether the Advance Toward the Welfare State is good or bad. Would you accept? Which side of this question would you prefer to take? And would you go up against the debating team of the University of Cambridge, England?

MR. HUTTON

Cambridge is one of the oldest and most famous universities in the world and only bright young men get on its debating team.

This question was recently debated by Cambridge against a team from the State Prison Colony of Massachusetts! The prisoners won! They argued that the advance toward the Welfare State was a bad thing for society.

Maybe men who have known freedom and have lost it in an institution where their welfare is provided by society have a deeper understanding of this question—which concerns us all—than those of us on the outside.

Incidentally, the prison team was supplied with debating material by The Foundation of Economic Education, Inc., a non-partisan, research organization, at Irvington-on-Hudson, New York.

Good thinking has gone on behind prison bars. Some of the world's greatest men have written in prison. For example, John Bunyan, "Pilgrim's Progress"; Socrates, "Apologia"; St. Paul, certain of his Epistles.

Add Gandhi, Thomas Paine, Sir Walter Raleigh, Daniel Defoe, O. Henry, William Lloyd Garrison, and many others.

Some of us outside prison walls are prisoners of the "Groupthink," or mass mind, which stifles thought.

SAWKILL NEWS

Sawkill, March 12 — A St. Patrick's Day dance will be held at Sawkill Firehouse Saturday, from 9 p. m. to 1 a. m.

It is being sponsored by the Sawkill Mothers Club for the benefit of the Upper Sawkill School. Music for both round and square dancing will be supplied by the Catskill Mountaineers. Refreshments will be available throughout the evening.

Tickets may be purchased from any member of the Mothers Club, or at the door, the night of the dance. The public is most cordially invited to attend.

Installation of a new fire alarm system is expected to be completed and in operation in April, which will facilitate more rapid response to fires in the district. A special phone number will be assigned for fire reports, and the number will be publicized.

The County Highway Commission has had representatives in the area recently interviewing several property owners who have property in the area where the new bridge will be built in the village. The roadway will be changed to some extent, improving the traffic situation presently existing.

A total of $62.50 was collected this year during the annual polio drive in the Sawkill area conducted by the Auxiliary of Sawkill Fire Company and the Sawkill Mother's Club. Dime cards netted $10.50. They were filled by the pupils of the Sawkill School.

This month, the Red Cross drive is currently underway with Chairman Mrs. Paul Burton and teamworkers including Paul Butler, Wayne Burton, and Mrs. Francis Joy, in charge.

The Cancer Drive will be conducted in April by the Ladies Auxiliary, Sawkill Fire Company. Tentative plans of the group are to conduct the drive in the early evening hours of Wednesday, April 3 and the group will return to the firehouse after to conduct their regular monthly meeting which is held the first Wednesday evening of each month.

A number of weeks ago a meeting was held at the firehouse, at which time a consolidation committee explained the various factors of the proposed consolidation proposal. A number of persons interested attended the meeting and at the time signed a petition. This petition is now being circulated throughout the various school districts in the county. The local district petition is being circulated by Board of Trustees Chairman George Leedecke, assisted by Mrs. Raymond Walker, and Mrs. Francis Joy. It is specified, this petition is merely a request to the State Board of Education in Albany to present to the areas involved a plan for consolidation of the Greater Kingston Area which at the present time tentatively includes a number of outside school districts and the City of Kingston.

If the required number of signees is obtained for the petitions being circulated, the State Education Department will present to the eligible voters of the districts, a plan of consolidation, prepared with full information regarding such consolidation. This will be voted upon in district elections. The signers of the petitions for this consolidation plan are under no obligation to vote in favor of the consolidation plan at the election, unless they so desire. The choice is up to the people, who may decide in favor of the plan, or against it, and express their individual opinions at the polls. Only, if a majority vote favors a consolidation, will such plan be put into effect.

Information brochures will be made available in the near future, giving the answers to many questicns regarding the various phases of the program. Anyone whe has not been contacted by a member of the petition committee, and who wishes to sign this petition is requested to contact Mr. Leedecke, chairman of the Trustees of District 1.

Man Alive!
What a Dream Car TO DRIVE!

Know what you're bossing when you put this Buick CENTURY through its paces?

A big and substantial automobile—sure.

A low and handsome traveler that has a brand-new body with full Buick roominess—correct.

But most of all, you're holding rein on action plus.

How come? Because we put most of our hard-cash millions into performance.

So here you toe-touch the 300 H.P. might of a brand-new engine.

You smooth along like skis on snow with the brand-new action of a Variable Pitch Dynaflow* that's literally instant in response.

You corner, steer, brake like never before.

One tryout in a new Buick will tell you for sure: this is the dream car of the year to drive.

Prices start at a level just a few dollars more than a smaller car—so man or woman—see your Buick dealer today!

*New Advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflow is the only Dynaflow Buick builds today. It is standard on ROADMASTER, SUPER and CENTURY—optional at modest extra cost on the SPECIAL.

†Safety-Minder standard on ROADMASTER, optional at extra cost on other Series.

Brand-NEW "Built-in Conscience" SAFETY-MINDER† It buzzes when you reach the miles-per-hour you preset for yourself. You won't want to drive without it.

Brand-NEW V8 ENGINE 300 H.P. Highest horsepower, torque and compression ever

Brand-NEW DYNAFLOW PERFORMANCE —Instant Response —even without switching the pitch

Come in! One look is worth a thousand pictures —one ride is worth ten thousand words. IT'S THE DREAM CAR TO DRIVE —THE BIGGEST VALUE TO BUY

WHEN BETTER AUTOMOBILES ARE BUILT BUICK WILL BUILD THEM.

Woman Mailman Busy With Job, Side Duties

Ravena, N. Y., March 13 (AP)—Mrs. Paul Falkner's social circle is expanding but her waistline isn't.

As Ravena's only woman mailman she walks an average of 12.5 miles every working day. The official publication of the State Assn. of Letter Carriers says Mrs. Falkner is the only woman letter carrier in New York state.

Mrs. Falkner said that "people thought I was carzy" when she started her mail career in this community near Albany in the winter of 1955. She adds, "Many people still do."

But they decided she really meant to stick it out when Mrs. Falkner appeared with ski pants and a hunting pack in sub-zero weather.

In addition to her Post Office job, Mrs. Falkner cares for her three children, 11, 7 and 5, and is active in the fire department auxiliary, a local motorcycle club and the Ravena Letter Carriers Assn.

Her husband also is a letter carrier.

Mrs. Falkner says she "sure wouldn't recommend my job for most women." Her qualifications include years of truck driving for Railway Express, plenty of sports including skating, skiing and motorcycling, and a rugged constitution.

A lady letter-carrier, she says, gets some unusual requests. She answers youngsters' homework questions, helps them repair their bikes and straightens out cookie recipes for wives along the route.

Once she stayed long enough to rebake a faltering cake.

Child Health Clinic

A Child Health Conference conducted by the Ulster County Health Department will be held at the Clinic Rooms, 25 East O'Reilly street, on Tuesday, March 19 from 1:30 to 2:30 p. m. These clinics are limited to infant and preschool children for the purpose of improving child health through early recognition of defects, advice regarding nutrition, instruction of parents in understanding of growth and development, handling of minor behavior difficulties and the administering of immunizations for smallpox, diphtheria, tetanus and whooping cough. These are well child clinics for the maintenance of health and prevention of disease, not for the care of the sick child. Children under the regular health supervision of their own physician are not admitted unless the physician desires this service to be taken over by the Child Health Conference. In this manner, duplication of service is avoided, facilitating the work of the private physician.

GE to Have Silicone Center Near Troy

Waterford, N. Y.,, March 13 (AP)—The General Electric Co. has announced plans for construction of a silicone technical center in this community near Troy.

Dr. Charles E. Reed, general manager of GE's silicone products department, said yesterday that plans called for immediate construction of a product and process laboratory. The two-story building, which will house library facilities, will about double laboratory facilities here, he said.

GE plans a three-million-dollar capital outlay this year at the silicone department. Other 1957 construction will provide for an increase in rubber-compounding equipment and additional manufacturing facilities.

Silicone is a chemical used, among other things, in water repellents, textile finishes, polishes and cosmetics.

Steel Business Report

New York, March 13 (AP)—For the first time in months steel mills are "selling hard," Iron Age, national metalworking weekly, said today. "The mills," according to the weekly, "are taking a realistic approach to the changing market situation. Their business is still healthy, and there are signs this week that demand for sheets is about to improve. "But for the first time in months they're selling hard. The ones that can are using tie-in sale with good effect: offering tonnage of still tight products to the customer who takes some of the easier to get items." A shortage still exists in heavy steel plate, the publican said, but some of the pressure on this type of steel may ease. Meanwhile, there has been a drop in demand for sheet and strip steel.

Kill Joys

Milwaukee (AP)—Two officials proposed that Milwaukee county stamp out the coffee break, contending the practice by county employes is costing the taxpayers one million dollars a year. The curb was asked by Anthony Romano, of the Civil Service Commission, and C. Stanley Perry, corporation counsel. They said they drank milk.

Mid-Hudson Catholic Club Plans Party

The Mid-Hudson Catholic Club will hold a St. Patrick's Day party March 17 at 8 p. m. at the Retreat House, Mt. Alverina Seminary, Wappingers Falls, it was announced by Giles Russell, activities director.

The committee in charge of arrangements includes Thomas Puleo of Poughkeepsie, Thomas Trainor of West Point and Miss Delores Meyers of Poughkeepsie.

Religious slides will be viewed by the organization's Study Club on Wednesday, March 20 at 8 p. m. Father Cletus, OFM, JCD, will present the concluding lecture in the series on "Matrimony: As Explained in the Canon Law of the Church."

ROSENDALE NEWS

Rosendale, March 12—The Rosendale Town Board approved the transfer of the portion known formerly as the Rosendale Fire Protection District east to the Tillson fire district. The transfer is subject to the approval of the New York state comptroller.

This is the portion cut off by the construction of the New York State Thruway. Since it became impossible for the Rosendale district to service this section properly, action was taken several months ago to have the Tillson fire district annex the area.

The annual election of village officers will take place at the firehouse March 19 between 5 and 9 p. m. A mayor, trustee and police justice will be elected.

Opposing each other for the office of mayor are George Herd of the Independent party and Joseph Bianco of the Democratic party. Harold Krom, a candidate of both parties, will seek election as the trustee for a two-year term of office and Wilfred G. Doolittle, also a candidate of the two parties, will seek election as police justice for a term of four years.

Special Lenten services will be held Wednesday, March 13, at the Rosendale Reformed Church at 8 p. m. The Rev. James Blane will speak on "Sanctified for the Street." Music will be offered by the choir of the Rosendale Reformed Church. Services will be held weekly throughout the Lenten season.

George Washington personally hung the wallpaper in the dining room at Mount Vernon.

Local DAR Chapter Hears State Chairman

"The price of liberty is eternal vigilance," said Mrs. James K. Polk, DAR state chairman of national defense at a recent meeting of Wiltwyck Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution.

In her address, Mrs. Polk, who spoke at the local Wiltwyck Chapter House, also stated that the Society is dedicated to the preservation of the constitutional form of government and that the aim of the committee of national defense is to create an informed membership.

She urged the membership to contact their congressmen when legislation contrary to the policies of the National Society was in progress.

Mrs. Weber Elliott, DAR state chairman of American Indians Committee, spoke briefly to the group of their work.

Mrs. Clair S. Sheaffer, regent, announced her committee chairmen for the annual bazaar and card party which will be held in the Chapter House Thursday at 1 p. m. and 7 p. m.

They are Mrs. Maynard Mizel and Mrs. Howard St. John, afternoon activities; Mrs. Adam H. Porter and Mrs. Cloyd Elias, evening activities.

Food, aprons and many other articles will be available. Public is cordially invited.

Reservations may be made with Mrs. Alfred Relyea or Mrs. James J. Soetching.

Mrs. Sheaffer also announced that Mrs. Thurman C. Warren, state regent, would be a guest of the chapter on April 4 and that the annual Spring luncheon would be held on that date.

The group also learned that the National Society donated the use of Constitution Hall in Washington, D. C. for a Hungarian Relief program.

Mrs. Walter Tremper, program chairman, presented Miss Cora O'Neil, who played several selections on the piano.

For the social hour which followed, Mrs. Walter A. Perret and Mrs. Raymond R. Gross were hostesses.

Mrs. Sheaffer poured.

Court Santa Maria Observes Anniversary

Court Santa Maria 164, Catholic Daughters of America, celebrated its 45th anniversary recently with a banquet at the Governor Clinton Hotel. Three charter members were present.

After a welcome from Mrs. V. A. Gorman, grand regent, the chairman introduced those present.

Among the clergy attending were the Rt. Rev. Stephen P. Connelly, the Rev. Joseph Comyns, the Rev. Austin V. Carey, the Rev. James A. Dunnigan and the Rev. Joseph N. Moody.

State and district officers present included Mrs. Jane Benzing, state vice regent; Mrs. Jane Spindler, district deputy and Mrs. Julia Phelan.

Guests from Poughkeepsie, Marlboro, Cairo, Highland Mills and Mt. Vernon attended the festivities.

An announcement was made at the banquet by the grand regent that Court Santa Maria will hold a reception of new members on Sunday, March 24, at 14 Henry street. Mrs. Jane Spindler will officiate.

Mrs. Julia Phelan from Poughkeepsie announced that Court Irena 69 will hold a 50th anniversary on May 26. Members of Court Santa Maria 164 are invited to attend.

Entertainment and community singing was under the direction of Mrs. Vere Nessel, accordionist.

At the annual Communion breakfast of the Ladies' Auxiliary of Ancient Order of Hibernians, which will be held Sunday, March 24, Mrs. Katherine J. Sullivan, past county president of the society, will be the guest of honor.

Mrs. Lillian Mitchell, county president, announced the breakfast would be held at the Kirkland Hotel immediately following the 8 a. m. Mass at St. Joseph's Church.

Reservations should be made by March 20.

Guest speaker will be Joseph F. Sullivan, city historian.

Members of both divisions 4 and 5 will take part in the corporate Communion and breakfast.

Fair Plans Are Made By Home Department

The planning committee and section managers of the Home Department of the Ulster County Fair held a meeting at the Home Demonstration Office Wall street Monday afternoon to revise the premium list and make plans for the fair which will be held on August 21 and 22 this year. The Home Department Exhibits will be housed in the pavilion in Forsyth Park as in former years.

Mrs. William E. Powers, superintendent of the Home Department, announced that many new classes have been added to the premium list, to better serve the busy homemakers and many others who specialize in the various phases of baking, canning, sewing, knitting, crocheting and other items of handicraft.

The premium lists will be ready for distribution in a short time and exhibitors should start now to plan for the articles they wish to enter.

A section for special institutional premiums is open to entry by anyone who, because of age or ill health, is confined to an institution, such as the Ulster County Home, Golden Hill Hospital, or a boarding or nursing home.

Special events are under consideration and will be announced at a future date when plans have been completed.

Section Managers include: The Mmes. C. V. Gunther, Charles Lamphere, Harry VanDemark, Fred Spendle, Kingston; Mmes. H. Jones, Isaac Graham, Stone Ridge; the Mmes Donald Luce, Douglas Masterson, J. H. Cuniff, William McNamee, Hurley; the Mmes David J. DuBois and Miss Helena M. Olds, New Paltz; the Mmes. Raymond Bonestell, Carl Dedy, George Brown, Brambert Rd.; Mrs. Russell Boice Jr., Mrs. Jacob Meyers and D. N. Secore, fair grounds committee.

Banquet-Meeting Set by Daughters Of America Here

Annual district meeting of District 6, Daughters of America of New York will be held Tuesday, March 26 at Mechanics' Hall, Henry street at 8:15 p. m.

District deputy, Mrs. Mildred H. Burger will preside at this meeting. State councilor, Mrs. Martha Magee of Tarrytown will make her official visit at this time.

Preceding the meeting, a banquet will be held at the First Baptist Church, Albany avenue at 6 p. m. Tickets for the banquet will be on sale at the regular meeting of Vanderlyn Council No. 41, or reservations may be made by contacting Mrs. Tressa Swibold not later than March 21.

BEING FRANK WITH THE FAMILY

A letter explains: "My husband and I live in a resort city. We both have large families living throughout the country, and many of them spend their vacations here with us. We have just built our own house near the beach and it is a delightful place to spend a vacation. We enjoy seeing our family very much and we do have room to put them up. However, it costs money to feed them and as our budget is rather tight I often have to take money from our savings account to pay the bills. They always bring a nice present for me and something for the children. I appreciate this very much but it doesn't help to pay the grocery bills. Will you please tell me if it would be proper to ask them to help share the food bills, and if so how can I do it tactfully so as not to hurt their feelings? As I said before, I do enjoy having them but I can't go on doing this on my husband's moderate income."

I think it will be best to explain your situation frankly to your two families and ask them if instead of the beautiful gifts they bring you they would help you with the grocery bills.

Silver Accessories

Dear Mrs. Post: My son is going to be married shortly at two o'clock in the afternoon. I have chosen a dusty rose lace dress to wear to the wedding. I have a very pretty silver purse and sandals that I have worn just once and which I would like to wear to the wedding. Will you please tell me if this would be in good taste, or are silver accessories only proper in the evening? Please advise me.

Answer: There is nothing more formal than a wedding and I think your silver purse and sandals will be lovely with your dusty rose lace dress.

Should Teacher Rise

Dear Mrs. Post: I am a teacher in a junior high school. The new principal of our school is a man, younger than I am. Should I rise when he enters the classroom?

Answer: Yes. Regardless of his age he is the principal and you as hostess in your classroom should rise to greet him.

YW Board Meeting Is Held; Eastern Region Represented

The Board of Directors of the YWCA entertained Miss Margaret Robertson, field representative of the Eastern Region, National Board of the YWCA, at a dinner on Monday at 6 p. m. The monthly board meeting followed with Mrs. Thomas Fitzgerald, president, presiding.

Eastern Regional Conference of the YWCA will be held at Atlantic City May 17, 18, and 19. The theme will be "Getting to Know You." One phase of this is getting to know the faiths we live by—Jewish, Catholic and Protestant. The board is going to make a special study of these three faiths in succeeding meetings. The Board approved that Mrs. DeBoer attend the building workshop which will precede the conference.

The exploratory building committee gave a report. The adult education committee was empowered to look into the matter of sponsoring a marriage counseling series next fall.

The Y-Teen committee reported that the sale of cosmetics to send teen-agers to conference still continues.

The next Board of directors meeting will be held at the YWCA on April 15.

Horse Clubs Schedule Meeting for Sunday

The Inter-Area Horse Clubs have scheduled a meeting for Sunday, March 17 at the Hotel Park Lane, Port Jervis, according to Mrs. Arlene Kiersted, secretary of the newly formed group.

The club was formed in February when representatives from horse clubs located in Kingston, Woodstock, and neighboring states and communities met at the Hotel Park Lane, Port Jervis.

The purpose of the club is to provide information, equipment and improve communications between all the independent horse clubs. It will serve as a central point of club operations.

Temporary officers elected were Mrs. Joseph Finnegan, president; Mrs. A. Feigenheimer, secretary and Peter Teller, publicity.

Among the clubs represented were: Woodstock Riding Club, Woodstock; Lowland Ranch Club, Kingston; Monticello Riding Club, Monticello; 4-H Boots and Saddles Club, Newton, N. J.; Goshen Lions Club, Goshen; Goshen and Middletown Riding Club, Goshen; Valley Riding Club, Warwick; Abington Hills Riding Club, Summit, Pa.; Jubilee Ranch, Port Jervis; Liberty Riding Club, Liberty; Tri-States Western Club, Port Jervis.

Music Appreciation Group Holds Meeting

Mrs. Kenneth N. Alexander was hostess to the Music Appreciation group Thursday, March 7.

The study for the day was the life and works of the American composer Edward MacDowell, given by Mrs. Frank Thompson Sr.

Included in her remarks was a description of his home in Peterboro, N. H., where he formed a colony of creative artists. It is now known as the Peterboro Memorial Association and is frequented each year by many promising young artists.

To show the beauty and simplicity of MacDowell's music, recordings of the "Indian Suite," and "To a Wild Rose," from the Woodland Sketches, were played.

Mrs. John Sterley was cohostess with Mrs. Alexander at the tea which followed the program.

Mrs. Harry Smith poured.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Arthur Pedersen on March 21 at 2 p. m.

Miss Alice Lee Weds Wilber Dawson Jr.

Miss Alice M. Lee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Lee of 218 North street, and Wilber F. Dawson Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilber Dawson of 25 East Union street, were united in marriage Friday, March 1 at 8 p. m. in the parsonage of the African Union Methodist Church.

Officiating was the Rev. S. Bradley Chappell.

Visitor — How old are you, Bobby?

Bobby—Oh, I'm just at that awkward age.

Visitor—Really, and just what do you consider the awkward age?

Bobby—Well, I'm too old to cry and too young to cuss!

It is always easier to arrive at a firm conviction about a problem after you know what the boss thinks.

* * *

The visitor from the city stopped in at the general store of the village, and inquired:

Visitor—Have you anything in the shape of automobile tires?

Storekeeper—Yep, life-preservers, invalid cushions, funeral wreaths, doughnuts, an' sich.

An opportunist is a man who, finding himself in hot water, decides he needs a bath anyway.

Visitor — How did you make your neighbor keep his hens in his own yard?

Man—One night I hid a half-dozen eggs under a bush in my garden, and next day I let him see me gather them. I wasn't bothered after that.

Ole-time-strike leaders who shouted, "Workers, arise!" have altered the technique. The revised watchword is "Brother, pull up a chair!"

Two small boys standing in front of the scale in front of Hugh Austins store nudged each other and began to grin when a very fat lady hauled herself up onto the platform.

The penny tinkled down and they craned their necks. But something was obviously wrong with the mechanism of the scale—the pointer went straight up to 75 pounds and stayed there.

One Kid (whispering) — Can you beat that? She's hollow.

An old man approached the ticket wagon on the circus grounds and asked for three seats for the afternoon performance.

Ticket seller—Sorry, but we're sold out.

Old Man — You mean to say you haven't even three seats you can sell me?

Ticket seller—That's about the situation.

Old Man — Well, I call that derned poor management.

Whom is going to be the next political candidate to say, "This reception is greatly appreciated by my wife and I"?

* * *

Judge—You are charged with selling adulterated milk.

Man—Your Honor, I plead not guilty.

Judge — But the testimony shows that it is 25 per cent water.

Man—Then it must be high-grade milk. If your Honor will look up the word "milk" in your dictionary you will find that it contains from 80 to 90 per cent water. I should have sold it for cream!

Monkey Business

Hutchinson, Kan. (AP)—If you want to liven up your home, try raising a couple of young monkeys, advises Mrs. A. H. Stuckey.

Of Chee Chee and Jerry—the monkeys that livened her home—she reports:

They're hungry—"just silly about cooked cranberries, and they love apples, grapefruit and sweet potatoes and milk and chewing gum."

They're economical—"they don't waste a crumb of food."

And they're affectionate—all you have to say is "give me a kiss."

East's Power Is Own Undoing

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

East started the ball rolling for the defense today by taking three spade tricks. Then he made a serious mistake by leading the queen of clubs instead of his fourth best.

South won with the king and did a little point counting. His problem was to pick up the queen of trumps and the normal play would be to try to drop it. But, East had shown nine points in spades and at least two more points in clubs. With the queen of hearts he would have opened the bidding.

Therefore, South laid down the king of hearts, continued with the jack and when West played low he let it ride for a successful finesse. Good play by South but a nice assist by East.

I want to thank the many, many readers who have called attention to my error of Jan. 18. Dummy held the sigleton queen of diamonds and declarer ace-king-small. He could make his slam by cashing the queen and then discarding two clubs on the ace and king. Dummy should have held a low diamond and East the queen so that only one discard could be taken. Then Larceny Lou's defense would have beaten the hand.

The error is really the fault of the gremlins who exist only to plague bridge writers. One must have put that queen in dummy while I slept.

CONSTIPATED?

new laxative discovery un-locks bowel blocks

without gag, bloat or gripe

Constipation is caused by what doctors call a "thrifty" colon. A "thrifty" colon is one that, instead of retaining moisture as it should, does the opposite: robs the colon of so much moisture that its contents become dehydrated, so dry that they block the bowel; so shrunken that they fail to excite or stimulate the urge to purge that propels and expels waste from your body.

TO REGAIN NORMAL REGULARITY two things are necessary. First, the dry, shrunken contents of your colon which now block your bowel must be re-moistened. Second, bulk must be brought to your colon to S-T-R-E-T-C-H STIMULATE it and so, excite its muscles to action; to a normal urge to purge.

AND, OF ALL LAXATIVES, only COLONAID, the amazing new laxative discovery possesses COLONAID'S great moisturizing capacity plus COLONAID'S stretch-stimulating bulk that activates normal colonic reflexes. So effective that it relieves even chronic constipation overnight, COLONAID is yet so smooth, so gentle it has been proved safe even for women in the most critical stages of pregnancy.

SUPERIOR TO OLD STYLE bulk, salt or drug laxatives, COLONAID neither gags, bloats nor gripes; does not interfere with your absorption of vitamins and other valuable food nutrients; and in clinical tests, did not cause rash or other side reactions.

IT'S A PHYSIOLOGICAL FACT: Exercise tones your body! And COLONAID exercises your colon to tone it against constipation, overnight! Whether occasional, frequent or chronic, whatever your degree of constipation, get COLONAID, in easy-to-take tablet form at any drug counter, today! The price, only 98c for the economical 60 tablet package, brings you positive relief at less than 2c per tablet.

Coach House Play Slated for Tonight

"The Tender Trap," a comedy written by Max Shulman and Robert Paul Smith, will be presented tonight at 8:30 o'clock by Coach House Players at the George Washington School.

The play is under the direction of Houston Richards.

"The Tender Trap," according to Robert Coleman, New York columnist, " is a real laugh champ, a shrewdly-penned chuckle provider, with a lot of truth beneath its shenanigans. It's a pleasure to be trapped by such an ingratiating and amiable entertainment."

Public is cordially invited to attend.

Debating Society Holds Annual Dinner

The Webster-Hayne Debating Society of Kingston High School held its annual banquet Tuesday at the Kirkland Hotel.

President of the society, Jerome Singer, introduced M. Clifford Miller, principal of the school and the club advisers.

A short historical account of the organization was given by Miss Ethel Hull, former adviser to the society, now a retired teacher.

Miss Agnes Smith, Kingston High School teacher of social studies, was the guest speaker. She spoke to the group about "Ulster County Folklore."

A mock debate was staged by Jerome Singer, Miriam Schecter, Mary Whitford and George Chilson.

Arrangements for the dinner were made by Barbara Schultz, John Snyder and Miss Grace Jordan, adviser.

Other officers of the club include Jerome Singer, vice president, Lorraine Etienne, secretary-treasurer, Miss Gordon and Miss Lina Maggiore, advisers.

Forte to Play in Kingston Cage Tourney for Pine Plains Five

Columbia Ace To Appear in Opener Tuesday

Chet Forte

Chet (The Jet) Forte, fifth leading college basketball scorer this season, will be in the lineup of the Pine Plains Bombardiers when they take the floor next Tuesday in opening night action of the fifth annual Kingston Basketball Tournament.

The Columbia University ace will spearhead a star-studded squad which includes teammate Ted Dwyer, Gary Holway, top point-pourer of Albany State Teachers, Bob Martin, Poughkeepsie City League 'most valuable player' and 6-7 Phil Spencer, former Arlington High great.

Forte scored 694 points for a 28-92 average and is one of the most sought after college stars by National Basketball Association coaches. Just 5-9, he outscored the fabulous Wilt The Stilt Chamberlain of Kansas, although the Kansas star finished with a higher per game average (29.52).

Plays at Poughkeepsie

Manager George Steutzle unveiled Forte to area fans Monday at Poughkeepsie and he scored 36 points. Dwyer, who was the Lions' co-captain with Forte, meshed 30.

Holway, 6-4 sophomore from Saranac Lake, was the leading scorer of State's 17-5 team, one of the most successful in the college's history. He caged 486 points for a 22.09 average and now has collected 983 points in two seasons for a new Albany record.

Martin, an ex-Arlington school star, is a veteran campaigner. The rotund operative played three years for the Maroon and was a star on three title-winning teams during the 1947-48, 1948-49 and 1949-50 seasons.

Spencer Set

Spencer is a rangy giant who has been terrorizing rivals in the Poughkeepsie loop for the past three seasons. He received the fourth highest total of votes in the circuit's MVP poll this year while playing for Police Athletic League.

Sickler's Delivery is the two-time tourney champions and will again feature present-day and former Siena College luminaries. Included on their squad are Ed Kolokowski, last year's tourney MVP; Frank Koenig, Frank Connelly, this year's Siena captain; Big Bill Knott, Tom Caroll, formerly of Manhattan College and Ralph Fedullo and George Buta, also ex-Siena stars.

Final pairings for the 12-team affair will be announced later.

Tarheels, Syracuse and Canisius Win

Frank McGuire, who coached North Carolina to the only unbeaten season in the nation, will also lend his talents to the East-West College All-Star game . . . to which end he was asked to appear on Mike Wallace's "Nightbeat," a bare-the-bones TV interview . . . said Frank: "I'll do anything to promote your game. But if I have to confess, I'll go to a priest." . . .

The Jack Dempsey Story, about to be flickered, is running into complications . . . after Joe Williams pointed out the folly of portraying the Manassa Mauler without his Svengali, Doc Kearns (who wanted a big slice). . . .

Pete Newell, the towel-chewing California coach, begs pardon to stem the Wilt the Stilt Chamberlain publicity tide. . . . "I'll still take Bill Russell," interrupted Pete, "as of this moment . . . because of his greater poise and experience." . . . Chamberlain, the giant without a weakness, inexplicably has shown some failings tossing them in from the foul line. . . .

Spotted George Gainford at Idlewild seeing a friend off to Europe . . . said the Sugar Ray Robinson handler: "We beat Fullmer next time. We make mistake in way we fight him. . . . People don't know Fullmer runs, but he does." . . . But which way, George? . . .

When the Israeli basketball team hit Los Angeles, Eddie Fisher, the singing star, joined them for a workout . . . and decided to make conversation with them in Yiddish . . . he drew only blank stares, turned to publicist Joey Goldstein and asked, "You sure these guys are Jewish?" . . . the explanation: In Israel, they speak only Hebraic and English. . . .

If we were moving baseball franchises westward, we wouldn't overlook Seattle . . . actually a more solid baseball town than Los Angeles. . . .

Jimmy Piersall doesn't own a piece of his Fear Strikes Out movie . . . he had to waive a percentage deal for a straight cash outlay because only one studio would even nibble at putting his life on film—and at its terms . . . the picture stands to make plenty. . . . Tony Perkins, who portrays Piersall, is a natural southpaw who had to be converted for the role. . . .

Elmer Ripley, veteran cage coach, calls Tom Mascherry, a 6-4, 230-pound graduate of Lowell High in San Francisco, "the greatest high school player I've ever seen." . . .

Couple of years ago Dudey Moore of Duquesne was frantic to recruit a big man, any man . . . and was sent a kid named Bob DePalma from New Jersey . . . he was big enough—6-6—but Dudey shuddered the first time he saw him on court. . . . "This is a basketball player?" . . . It happened to be "No" because DePalma had made his reputation in football, a sport Duquesne no longer plays, and didn't even win a letter in basketball. . . . Tribute to the coaching prowess of Moore is that listed at center for his untalented but winning Dukes is the same DePalma. . . .

In the last two National Invitation Tournaments, Dayton won crucial games by pulling a kid off the bench in waning moments to steal the ball and dunk winning points . . . this year Carmen Riazzi comes in as a full-fledged regular and Flyer captain. . . .

Between you'n'me, there was consternation at "This Is Your Life" when the producers found out the prospective subject, a golf figure, wouldn't bear spotlighting . . . and was abruptly cancelled out. . . .

Toppazzini Drill With Bruin Six

Boston, March 12 (AP) — The Boston Bruins, who have lost defenseman Allan Stanley for the Stanley Cup playoffs, may have regained winner Jerry Toppazzini.

Toppazzini suffered a fractured nose and fractures of the frontal bones of his face in a collision with the Red Wings' Ted Lindsay recently in Detroit. He was a surprise skater today when the Bruins practiced at Boston Garden.

"I'll be ready to play if they need me and I won't wear any mask," said Toppazzini.

North Carolina Moves Over Yale By Score, 90-74

By The Associated Press

Powerful North Carolina was on its way to Philadelphia today to resume the hectic NCAA basketball tournament struggle and boasting a 28-0 record that little but dangerous Canisius College would dearly love to smash.

Coach Frank McGuire's North Carolina Tar Heels, the nation's No. 1 team, turned on the gas in the second half last night to thump Yale's Ivy League champions in the first round of the eastern NCAA regionals at New York, 90-74.

Canisius, of Buffalo, N. Y., and a tough team in anybody's book, humbled West Virginia, the Southern Conference champs, 64-56; while Syracuse marched past Connecticut 82-76 in other games on the Madison Square Garden triple header.

Tar Heels Tense

McGuire said last night that he hopes the Tar Heels "are looser in Philadelphia against Canisius Friday than they were against Yale."

He said his boys, most of whom come from the New York city area, were trying too hard before their friends and relatives. "Playing in New York is worse for us than playing in a strange city," said the soft-spoken coach.

North Carolina—the nation's No. 1 team in the final AP poll—was behind most of the first half, but gained a 40-all deadlock at intermission. The game was tied six times in the second half before the Tar Heels pulled away for good with 11 minutes to go.

McGuire, watching Canisius outclass West Virginia and All-America Hot Rod Hundley, was impressed by the Golden Griffins from Buffalo. "They're a smart ball club," he said. "They like to hold the ball until the other team makes a mistake."

Rosenbluth Hits 29

Harried by two defenders most of the time, the Tar Heels' 6-5 Lennie Rosenbluth still managed to collect 29 points and snare 17 rebounds.

Hank Nowak and Joe Leone sparked Canisius, which led at halftime 34-18 and then staved off a late West Virginia drive that closed the gap to 52-50. Nowak hit for 19 points and Leone 18. Hundley was outstanding for the mountaineers with 17.

Syracuse, which will play Lafayette Friday, rallied in the last eight minutes to down Connecticut. Gary Clark, who led the late surge, was high for the Orange with 26 points.

At Columbus, Ohio, Notre Dame racked up its 10th straight victory by clipping Miami (Ohio) 89-77, while the Pittsburgh Panthers took a last-gasp verdict from Morehead (Ky.) 86-85 to get the midwest regionals under way.

Oklahoma City Wins

One contest was played in the West Regional, with Oklahoma City University trouncing Loyola of New Orleans 76-55 at Oklahoma City.

This completed a field of 16 teams for the next phase of the annual scramble, with doubleheaders scheduled for Philadelphia, Lexington, Ky., Dallas, and Corvallis, Ore., Friday night. The Friday winners tangle Saturday, with four teams surviving for the semifinals and finals at Kansas City March 22 and 23.

Here's the pairings for Friday:

Philadelphia, East Regional—Lafayette (22-3) vs. Syracuse (17-6) and North Carolina (28-0) vs. Canisius (21-5).

Lexington, Midwest Regional—Kentucky (22-4) vs. Pitt (16-9) and Notre Dame (19-7) vs. Michigan State (15-7).

Dallas, West Regional — St. Louis (19-7) vs. Oklahoma City (18-8) and Kansas (21-2) vs. Southern Methodist (21-3).

Corvallis, Far West Regional—Brigham Young (18-8) vs. California (20-4) and Idaho State (25-2) vs. San Francisco (18-6).

Meanwhile the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics (NAIA) tournament at Kansas City enters the second round with 16 teams headed by top-seeded Pacific Lutheran still alive.

First round play was completed yesterday with Pacific Lutheran downing Elon 76-61. Others winning yesterday were Stetson (Fla.) Tennessee State, Ball State (Ind.), Youngstown, Western Illniois, William Jewell and Southeastern Oklahoma. The quarterfinals will be played tomorrow, the semifinals on Friday, and the finals Saturday.

The NCAA small college tournament quarterfinals get under way today at Evansville, Ind., with eight teams in action, starting with Mount St. Mary's (Md.) and Rider (N. J.) at 2:30 p. m. EST. San Diego State and Los Angeles State meet in the other afternoon game. In the evening, South Dakota meets Wheaton and Buffalo (N. Y.) Univ. plays Kentucky Wesleyan.

2 Seeded Stars Ousted in Tennis

Palm Beach, Fla., March 13 (AP)—Some of the gloss was missing from the Everglades Club Invitational tennis tournament today as play moved into quarter finals.

Eddie Moylan of Trenton, N. J., third seeded and runner up last year, lost yesterday to Mario Llamas, Mexican champion from Mexico City, 6-3, 10-8, and Whitney Reid of Alameda, Calif., fourth seeded, was beaten by veteran Gardnar Mulloy of Denver, 9-7, 6-3.

Defending champion Herbie Flam of Beverly Hills, Calif., trounced Francisco contrares of Mexico City, 6-4, 6-3, and Vic Seixas of Philadelphia trimmed Carroll Garcia of Havana, 6-2, 6-2.

Mervyn Rose of Sydney, Australia, defeated Reynaldo Garrido of Havana, 6-4, 6-1, and Don Candy of Melbourne won from Jerry Moss of Miami, 6-2, 7-5.

Top seeded Darlene Hard of Montebello, Calif., led the women's play with a 6-1, 6-3, triumph over Marguerita Bonstrom, Stockholm, Sweden.

Ricki Star-Don Lee Wrestle Tonight

Fresh from Madison Square Garden where he pinned Dick The Bruiser in 6:45, Ricki Starr, the ballet-dancing sensation, meets Cowboy Don Lee, the 310-pounder from Del Rio, Texas, in tonight's headline, best-of-three falls bout at the municipal auditorium.

Wild Man Fargo and Don Stevens, the world tag-team champions, take on Len Rossi of Utica and Arnold Skaaland of White Plains in a best-of-three falls semi-final, with 45-minute time limit.

The 30-minute, one-fall opener introduces Dr. Roy Graham, the hypnotist, against Chief Big Heart. First bout is scheduled at 8:30 p. m.

Baseball Museum To Add New Wing

Cooperstown, N. Y., March 13 (AP)—Construction will begin immediately on a wing to house baseball's Hall of Fame at the National Baseball Hall of Fame and Museum.

Stephen C. Clark, president of the shrine, said yesterday that the one-story wing will be of brick and steel construction. It will be used for exhibition of the plaques of Hall of Famers, flags of the nations in which baseball is played and the Hall of Fame Cup for which an American League and a National League team compete each summer in an exhibition game at Doubleday Field here.

Clark said the construction would not restrict the viewing of many exhibits now at the baseball shrine. They have been seen by an estimated 1,114,000 persons since the shrine was opened to the public in 1939.

BOWLING SCORES

William Yates set two new seasonal records in the Federation International League with 248 and 662 on the YMCA alleys.

The 662 is one of the highest rolled on the Y boards in the past few years. He started with games of 205 and 209 before the big blast.

Emile Jordan Jr. reeled off lines of 208, 235 and 167 for a 610 series to lead the Central Recreation loop.

Otto Sonnenberg spliced games of 186-167-208 for 561 in the International division. Herb Sleight led the National with 177-168-190 for 535 and Ferd Short clipped 522.

The team results:

International — Willow 1, Woodstock Lutheran 2; Trinity Lutheran No. 3 (1), St. James No. 2 (2). National — Trinity Lutheran No. 2 (1), Comforter No. 3 (2); First Dutch No. 1 (0), Fair Street No. 2 (3); First Baptist No. 2 (2), First Presbyterian 1.

DAYTON WIBC THIRD LARGEST ON RECORD

Dayton, Ohio has achieved the third highest registration for a Woman's International Bowling Congress tournament with 3,098 teams from 39 states, Hawaii, Canada and Washington, D. C. This record was surpassed only by Detroit in 1953 with 5,000 teams and Syracuse in 1954 with 4,538. The hostess city will have 788 teams participating and the entry for the State of Ohio is 1,525 teams. Michigan is next with 345 and Indiana has entered 282. Cities with the largest representation are: Detroit 126, Cincinnati 98, Toledo 78, Columbus 60 and Chicago 56. Dayton is preparing for the grand opening on April 11 with a big parade of many floats, bands and spectacular attractions. The tournament will run through May 27. Bowlers will cut a prize melon of $109,584 — the third time that the WIBC prize money has exceeded $100,000. The WIBC also will be using the automatic pinspotting machines for the first time.

Saturday's Game

Corner Rest vs. Blocktops, 7:15.

Boulevard Gulf spurted for 27 points in the final period to break up a tight game and whip Caruso's Insurance, 70-48, in the YMCA "B" league last night.

In other action, Ramblers led through every period to trim last place Texaco, 64-48.

The win for Boulevard moved it into second place with a 4-1 record behind pace-setting Kingston Blacktops (4-0). Caruso's mark is 2-2, good for a tie for fourth.

Lucas Scores 17

Ray Lucas bucketed 17 to lead Boulevard. Fred Jenny hit 16, Joe Tremper 13 and Will Godwin 11.

Charles Tiano and George Holstein each tabbed 11, three less than Phil DiCicco who led the Insurancemen.

Tom Waters' 22 was high for the Ramblers which stand 2-3. Al Short chipped in with 18 and Vince Hart 13.

Dick Landcastle whipped in 13 and Jack Dawkins and Jack Lechner each 10 for Texaco which is 0-4.

Day of Leafs Not Resigning

Toronto, March 12 (AP)—Clarence (Happy) Day, general manager of the Toronto Maple Leafs of the National Hockey League, commenting today on reports he may be quitting the club said: "I am not considering anything. If I had I would discuss it first with Mr. Smythe."

Reached in Florida, Con Smythe, owner of the club, said: "Hap's future is in his own hands."

Told that Day was not thinking of resigning, Smythe chuckled and said: "Good for him."

C. K. Ogden, of Magdalene College, Cambridge University, England, developed Basic English.

Name English Filly For New Jersey Race

Camden, N. J., Mar. 12 (AP)—John Jacob Astor, a member of the English Parliament, has nominated his two-year old filly, Witness, for the Garden State Stakes, the world's richest race.

The fifth running of the Garden State Stakes, a mile-and-a-sixteenth test for two-year-olds, is scheduled for next October.

Indians Are Loaded With 'Ifs'

The Associated Press

The Cleveland Indians—loaded with "ifs"—refuse to subscribe to the popular belief that the New York Yankees only have to show up to win the American League race again.

Kerby Farrell, of course, is a rookie manager, and as such he reserves the right to be shown.

When asked the other day if maybe he didn't think the Yanks would win the pennant, he barked:

"I do not. I concede the Yanks nothing. They have to beat us to win it and you can bet we'll give them a fight."

Reassuring words for the Tribe, but in order to give the Yanks a fight, here are a few of the "ifs" that will have to jell:

1. Jim Busby, a .235 hitter last year, will have to improve. He has it in him, as he proved the year he hit .312 with Washington.

2. Bobby Avila must raise his paltry .224 average.

3. Rocky Colavito, a long ball hitter, will have to be available to the club for the full season instead of just 100 games.

4. Mike Garcia, the Big Bear, needs to get back to his 20-game-per-season output by way of a new knuckler.

And on into the night. If . . . if . . . if . . . if they all come through, the Indians may make a race of it. If they don't, the Tribe will have to be content fighting for second place.

Pitching Set

Farrell has no worries about his front line pitchers. Three of them loosened up in yesterday's 8-1 victory over the Chicago Cubs at Tucson, Ariz. Bob Lemon gave up only one hit in the first three innings. Then, Art Houtteman yielded three in the middle three and Don Mossi held the Cubs to two in the final three.

The Pittsburgh Pirates, always hot during the exhibition season, won their fourth game without a defeat by turning back the Cincinnati Redlegs, 6-4, at Tampa. Philadelphia and Boston each broke into the win column, the Phillies licking the Washington Senators, 4-2, at Clearwater, and the Red Sox defeating the Yanks, 1-0 at St. Petersburg.

The Pirates collected 11 hits including a home run by rookie Dick Stewart to gain their decision over the Redlegs. Veteran Jim Hearn and yearlings Jack Bunker and Dick Farrell held the Senators to six hits in the Phillies' triumph.

Red Sox Win

The Red Sox, who have yet to show any punch, beat the Yanks on a fluke run in the 13th inning. With two out and the bases loaded, Bill Skowran, being tried at third base on an experiment by Casey Stengel, stumbled after fielding an easy grounder. When he recovered, all hands were safe and Jim Piersall had scored.

In other games, the St. Louis Cardinals, behind home runs by Wally Moon and Del Ennis, blasted the Kansas City A's at Palm Beach, 12-4; the Milwaukee Braves blanked the Detroit Tigers, 1-0, with Frank Torre driving in the only run; the New York Giants won a 9-8 slugfest from the Baltimore Orioles, on Gail Harris' three-run homer in the ninth inning and the Brooklyn Dodgers whipped the Chicago White Sox 8-4 as Roy Campanella got his first hit of the exhibition season—a double.

Tribute to a Duck

McAlester, Okla. (AP) — Bill Pace has been hunting many times, but the last time he went out for ducks he came back shaking his head. A solitary mallard flew near the shore and as he watched it was shot down by three hunters firing in unison. As the bird fell, Pace heard the hunters play taps in unison on their duck calls.

Rotron Blasters Take Lead in KBA Tourney With 3129 Gross

FROM OUT OF THE PAST—This rare photo of the great Kingston Athletic Club baseball team of 1908-1909 should be of interest to the real old timers. The club had headquarters at Cooney's Hall on Railroad avenue and defeated John Cuneo's famous Hudson River League team in a game at the old Athletic Field. Team personnel, back row from the left: former police lieutenant James (Deppie) Martin (retired); Supreme Court Justice Harry E. Schirick; Abe Van Aken, Jim Fitzgerald, deceased; Merle Balfe, deceased; Columbus (Clum) Carroll; center row—Fritz O'Mara, Pat Struble, Charles Paulson, co-manager; Charles Schreiber, Ed Gregory; front row—Fred Wenzel, William Lang, deceased; Peter Norton, deceased; and Jack Robins, deceased.

Woodstock Five Rolls 2661 Net With 468 Hdcp.

Anthony LaRocca's 244 Is New Net Single

Rotron Blasters of Woodstock took over first place in the Kingston Bowling Association tournament last night, with a 3129 blast at the Bowlerama lanes.

The unheralded representatives of that thriving industry in the artist village fired a net 2661 and had 468-pin handicap. The key game was a rousing 982 middle effort and it was flanked by slams of 843 and 836.

It was a perfect "3100" for the Blasters who placed all five men in the 500-net and 600-gross category.

Fred Ferraro led the net shooting with 561 on games of 181, 205 and 181. Charlie Raible fashioned 229-545, Emmick 512, Vanderlyn 521 and Howland 516.

Central Hudson Drops

Rotrons moved over Central Hudson into the lead, while a re-check of the Central Hudson averages revealed they should have received 494 pins instead of 526 on opening night when they took the early lead with a 3113 blast.

The revised figures put the Gascos' gross at 3081, good for fourth place at the moment behind Rotron, Sunset of New Paltz (3083) and Doug's Auto Service of New Paltz (3082).

Mid-Town Chop House landed among the first ten with a 3018 gross as Anthony La Rocca powered a 244 and Harry Secreto hit 225. La Rocca's 244 is new net high single.

Other top scores last night included S&E Farms (Rosendale), 2999; Rotron Smashers 2924, Fatum's Shell Station 2918, Duffy's Insurance 2915, Kendall Oil 2913.

Other gross scores rolled last night included: Orkoff's Floor Waxers, 2859; Hayes Lincoln-Mercury, 2851; Pulse Chasers, IBM, 2832; Chalet Alleys, Rosendale, 2815; Pilgrim Furniture Co., 2758; Sliders, IBM Sabago, 2752; Hotel Schoentag, 2859; Kendall Oil, Chalet Leaders, 2913.

Greaves-Webb Go On TV Tonight

Chicago, March 13 (AP)—Wilf Greaves, a young middleweight with limited experience, has his sights set on Gene Fullmer's title and figures the best way to meet the champion is by beating fourth ranked Spider Webb in a 10-round bout at Chicago Stadium tonight.

Greaves, of Pittsburgh, who has had only 14 professional fights, is subbing for Randy Sandy, who injured his left hand in training and was forced to withdraw.

Webb, one of Chicago's brightest fistic prospects, has come along quickly since he left the army a year ago. A member of the 1952 Olympic team, Spider has lost only once in 21 pro fights and is riding a string of 19 straight victories, including 12 knockouts.

The winner of tonight's nationally televised bout (10 p. m. EST—ABC) would very likely meet Joey Giardello in the Stadium next month—at least those are the plans of the International Boxing Club.

Greaves, 21, has an 8-5-1 record but his most impressive outing was in a nontitle bout against Fullmer two months ago at Salt Lake City where he lost a 10-round split decision.

Webb is 3-1 favorite.

To Build New Field

Highland LL Conducts Drive for $3,000 Fund

A financial drive to raise $3,000 for a new Little League baseball diamond and field at Highland has been under way since early March and will be culminated with a house-to-house canvas on March 31.

Ralph S. Penney, vice-president, said details of the canvass will be made known later. David Murphy, president of the league and Penney are co-ordinators and will be assisted by a number of volunteer personnel whose names will be announced later.

The $3000 goal is designed to make possible completion of the Grand street development which was started last year. League officials point to the fact that grading and filling of the area is about 90 per cent completed.

Deficit Is $300

Against a total of $2772 in the building fund, $900 has been paid against the $1500 purchase price of the property and $870 for excavating and filling. There is balance of $1000 at present, against which there are liabilities of $600 for the balance of the property; $600 for additional excavating contracts and $100 for legal fees, this creating an actual deficit of $300.

Necessary to complete the park for official play, said Penney, are such items as: seed and top soil, $300; backstop, $400; fencing around playing area only, $1000; dugouts for players, $100; bleachers, $400 and approximately $500 for a small equipment building, water and sewage facilities and other miscellaneous needs.

The 1957 schedule will be played on a temporary diamond, but league officials are extremely hopeful that the 1958 program can be carried out in full in the official Little League park. There are many obstacles still to be hurdled, Penney warned, but added: "the spirit is there and optimism is running high."

Spa Seeks More Money From State

Albany, N. Y., March 13 (AP)—Lawmakers were told today that the historic Saratoga race track needs additional revenue to maintain a high standard of thoroughbred racing.

The testimony came from the U. S. Route 9 Improvement Assn. at a hearing (1 p. m.) by the Legislature's fiscal committees on horse racing measures.

Sarto J. Smalldone said his organization backed proposals of the greater New York Assn. for boosting the pari-mutuel take of the four flat tracks in New York state.

Non-Profit Group

The association, a non-profit group that operates the four tracks, is sponsoring two measures.

One would increase the tracks' share of betting revenues by about a quarter—roughly four million dollars a year. The other would extend the racing season from 197 days to 210.

Another bill has been advanced by the Greater New York Sports Arena Inc., a group of businessmen who propose erection of a 57-million-dollar enclosed arena in New York city for harness racing.

The measure would authorize a meet in the arena from Dec. 1 to March 31. It would also allow the city to impose a 30 per cent tax on admissions.

All three measures have bipartisan sponsors.

Group Backs Meeting

Smalldone said the Route 9 Improvement Group backed the present 24-day exclusive racing season for Saratoga, and the boost in pari-mutuel revenue to finance "much-needed construction."

Under present law, the three New York city tracks—Belmont, Jamaica and Aqueduct — keep four per cent of the pari-mutuel betting pool and the state takes 11 per cent. At Saratoga, five per cent is left to the track and the state takes 10.

The GYNA proposes a 10-to-5 split downstate and a 9-to-6 division at Saratoga.

The association contends that if it needs additional income to give more competition to out-of-state tracks. Plans call for a 25-million-dollar "dream" track where Aqueduct stands.

2140 Teams Set For 32nd State Bowling Tourney

A near-record 2,140 teams are entered in the 32nd annual New York State men's bowling tournament which opens Saturday at Poughkeepsie.

Bowling will continue for 13 weeks, with most of the competition on Saturdays and Sundays. A few teams from the Poughkeepsie area will compete during the week.

More than 35 Kingston Bowling Association squads are entered.

Team events will be rolled at the Mardi-Bob lanes, while the doubles and singles will take place at the Dutchess Recreation. Opening ceremonies will be conducted at both alleys.

Record Is 2,234

The first shift of singles and doubles will go off at Dutchess at 12:15 noon. The teams begin at Mardi-Bob at 1:45 p. m.

The state record for entries is 2,234 teams, set in Utica in 1954. Other highs are 2,103 in New York city last year; 2,069 at Elmira in 1955; and 2,006 at Rochester in 1953.

Rochester, Buffalo and Syracuse, the three top upstate bowling centers, have contributed the largest number of teams. More than 200 are entered from the Poughkeepsie Association.

Bert L. Rhea, first vice-president of the state association, is tournament manager, and Walter Hermann is tournament secretary.

Cousy Selected Player of Year

Boston's Bob Cousy and Tom Heinsohn have swept pro basketball awards made annually by the Metropolitan Basketball Writers Association, it was announced yesterday.

Cousy was voted the Sam Davis Memorial Award as 'player of the year' for the third time in five years, becoming the first player to win that designation that many times. Heinsohn was named 'rookie of the year', symbolized by the Hy Turkin Memorial Award.

Both presentations will be made at the annual dinner of the association Sunday at Leone's Restaurant in New York city.

April 6 Is Date Of Ulster Hose Annual Banquet

Plans have been completed for the annual banquet of Ulster Hose Company No. 5, it was announced today.

The banquet will be held at the Social Relief Society Home, Cottekill, on April 6.

Members who plan to attend are asked to contact Roger Boice or Nick Marino.

At the regular meeting of the company Monday night Chief Harry Lowe reported that Sunday training, revived after a short intermission, is proceeding quite successfully.

It was reported also that Capt. Louis Every had presented instruction on Sunday in the proper use and handling of the Scott Air-Pak resuscitator.

This Sunday First Lt. Ernest Petersen will be in charge of instruction in the proper use of various types of fire extinguishers.

Any member is invited to attend the training programs. They are held each Sunday from 1 to 5 p. m.

Ulster-Albany Business Group To Meet Tonight

The Ulster Albany Avenue Businessmen's Association will hold its regular monthly meeting at Cyprus Inn at 8 p. m. today.

On the agenda is an ordinance regulating the licensing of peddlers and hawkers. This ordinance, when approved, will be submitted to the town of Ulster board.

Among subjects expected to be discussed tonight are the possibilities of developing a large shopping area in the township. With the opening of the Kingston-Rhinecliff bridge and the prospect of a road connecting it to Route 9W the association anticipates a lessening of congestion and parking pressures. Many businessmen in the area are also reported to feel that the Branch Bank of the State of New York National Bank will be a great asset to the section.

All members are invited and urged to attend the meeting.

Probe Worker's Death

Hawkinsville, Ga., March 13 (AP)—Pulaski county authorities today pressed an investigation into the slaying of Negro sawmill worker Willie Joe Sanford, whose knifed body was found wired to a creek bed March 1. Oconee Circuit Solicitor J. Wade Johnson said the Pulaski county grand jury recessed its investigation yesterday to enable questioning of everyone "even remotely connected" with the case. Johnson said approximately 15 witnesses had already been heard. He said the case will be "thoroughly investigated from every detailed angle and new developments are expected."

Orioles Sign Pair

Baltimore, March 12 (AP) — Two youngsters from St. Louis have been signed to minor league contracts by the Baltimore Orioles. Thomas Brady, 19-year-old infielder, was signed with Phoenix, of the Class C Arizona-Mexico League and 20-year-old Emil Schultz, an outfielder, signed with Paris, Tex., of the Class D Sooner State League.

Onteora Group to Meet March 23 at Boiceville

The Onteora Council of Religious Education will meet at Boiceville Church School Friday, March 23, at 7:30 p. m., to complete the adoption of a constitution and to elect officers for the program year 1957-58.

Harvey Every, chairman; Arthur Henkel, Donald Osgood, Mrs. Willard Gulnick, and Arthur Sampson, have met and prepared the slate of nominées in preparation for the meeting.

Discharged Vets Urged to Report To Former Jobs

Ex-servicemen recently discharged from service were advised today by Howard Shurter, Director of the Ulster County Veterans Service Agency, not to hesitate in reporting to their former places of employment in order that they might protect themselves under the provisions of the Federal Re-employment Act.

The Veteran official pointed out that a veteran has 90 days after discharge in which to apply for reinstatement to his former position.

Director Shurter said that employes who have left their positions for the purpose of being inducted in, enlisting in, or determining physical fitness to enter the armed forces also have reemployment rights. However, in these instances the employe must make application for reinstatement within 30 days following release from service.

Former servicemen who have any questions relative to their reemployment rights or any other veteran problem should contact the Ulster County Veteran's Service Agency and the State Division of Veterans' Affairs office, 32 Main street, Kingston, or any of the branch offices in Ellenville, Highland, Kerhonkson and Saugerties.

Otisville, Liberty in Semifinals

Liberty Central and Otisville High reached the semi-finals of the Sectionals basketball tournament with victories last night in a doubleheader at Middletown before a packed house of 800.

Liberty whipped Tri-Valley of Grahamsville, 67-54, in the opening game and Otisville nipped Pine Bush Central, 45-43, in the windup.

The Redskins are paired with defending champion Haverstraw High Thursday at Middletown in the feature attraction. Otisville takes on Port Jervis in the 7 o'clock opener. Finals are set for Saturday at the Mid-City gym.

Balanced Scoring

A balanced scoring attack brought Liberty its triumph. Four players hit for double figures, led by John Lawrence who tallied 18. Deming Payne meshed 16, Jack Thompson 14 and Kevin Moloney 11.

Jim Bennell, 6-4 center, topped both sides with 21. Rich Walter made 17 and Don Short 10.

Tri-Valley, champions of the Western Sullivan League, made a battle of it for three-quarters before faltering. A 15-7 spurt in the final period sewed up the Liberty verdict.

Liberty outshot the losers 26-18. From the foul line, the Redskins also had the better of it, making 15 of 18 attempts to a poor 18 for 31 for Tri-Valley.

Otisville had to struggle all the way in beating the Bushmen who captured the Orange county championship playoffs. The meeting was the fourth this season and gave the Warriors an even split in the series.

Gene Ketcham threw in 15 before fouling out early in the last period to top the mountainmen. Warren Roda added 12.

Ron Brach whipped in 19, including 13 out of 15 free throws, to pace the losers. Bob Christian notched 10.

Otisville grabbed the lead in the opening moments of the second half and never gave it up. Bob Larsen's basket two seconds from the end for the Bushmen made the final tally close.

Otisville canned 9 of 12 free flips and Pine Bush 17 of 23.

LEGAL NOTICE

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the resolution published herewith has been adopted by the Board of Education of the City School District of the City of Kingston, Ulster County, New York, on the 7th day of March, 1957, and the validity of the obligations authorized by such resolution may be hereafter contested only if such obligations were authorized for an object or purpose for which said School District is not authorized to expend money, or if the provisions of law which should have been complied with as of the date of publication of this notice were not substantially complied with, and an action, suit or proceeding contesting such validity is commenced within twenty days after the date of publication of this notice, or such obligations were authorized in violation of the provisions of the Constitution.

Dated: Kingston, New York, March 7, 1957.

EARL F. SOPER School District Clerk

BOND RESOLUTION DATED MARCH 7, 1957.

A RESOLUTION AUTHORIZING THE ISSUANCE OF NOT EXCEEDING $150,000 SERIAL BONDS OF THE CITY SCHOOL DISTRICT OF THE CITY OF KINGSTON, ULSTER COUNTY, NEW YORK, TO PAY A PART OF THE COST OF THE CONSTRUCTION OF AN ADDITION TO THE VOCATIONAL BUILDING IN SAID SCHOOL DISTRICT.

BE IS RESOLVED, by the Board of Education of the City School District of the City of Kingston, Ulster County, New York, as follows:

Section 1. For the specific object or purpose of paying a part of the cost of the construction of an addition to the vocational building located at 403 Broadway, in Kingston, New York, there are hereby authorized to be issued not exceeding $150,000 serial bonds of the City School District of the City of Kingston, Ulster County, New York.

Section 2. The maximum estimated cost of such specific object or purpose is $200,000 and the plan for the financing of said maximum estimated cost is as follows:

a) By the expenditure of $50,000 current funds appropriated therefor in the annual budget of said City School District for the fiscal year commencing July 1, 1956; and

b) By the issuance of the $150,000 serial bonds of said City School District, herein authorized.

Section 3. It is hereby determined that subdivision 12 (a) of paragraph a of Section 11.00 of the Local Finance Law applies to the aforesaid specific object or purpose and that the period of probable usefulness thereof is 15 years; provided, however, that the maximum maturity of the bonds herein authorized shall not exceed five years computed from the date of said bonds or the date of the first bond anticipation note issued in anticipation thereof, whichever date is the earlier.

Section 4. The faith and credit of said City School District of the City of Kingston, New York, are hereby irrevocably pledged to the payment of the principal of and interest on such bonds as the same respectively become due and payable. An annual appropriation shall be made in each year sufficient to pay the principal of and interest on such bonds becoming due and payable in such year. There shall annually be levied on all the taxable real property within said School District a tax sufficient to pay the principal of and interest on such bonds as the same become due and payable.

Section 5. Subject to the provisions of the Local Finance Law, the power to authorize the issuance of and to sell bond anticipation notes in anticipation of the issuance and sale of the serial bonds herein authorized, including renewals of such notes, is hereby delegated to the President of the Board of Education, the chief fiscal officer. Such notes shall be of such terms, form and contents, and shall be sold in such manner, as may be prescribed by said President of the Board of Education, consistent with the provisions of the Local Finance Law.

Section 6. The validity of such bonds may be contested only if:

1) Such bonds are authorized for an object or purpose for which said School District is not authorized to expend money, or

2) The provisions of law which should be complied with at the date of publication of this resolution are not substantially complied with, and an action, suit or proceeding contesting such validity is commenced within twenty days after the date of such publication, or

3) Such bonds are authorized in violation of the provisions of the Constitution.

Section 7. This resolution, which takes effect immediately, shall be published in full in the KINGSTON DAILY FREEMAN, together with a Clerk's notice in substantial conformity with Section 81.00 of the Local Finance Law.

Lakers Back In Pro Cage Limelight

(By The Associated Press)

When the Minneapolis Lakers were consistent champions of the National Basketball Assn. a few years ago loyal hometown folks referred to their city as "the basketball capital of the world."

The glory days have passed, but the pro basketball headlines all pointed to the Minnesota city again yesterday.

First, league headquarters in New York announced a complicated preliminary playoff setup that hinged on the Lakers winning two games. Then came the news that local investors had raised enough money to keep the Lakers in Minneapolis and voided a deal that would have sent them to Kansas City for the 1958 season. Finally, the Lakers traveled over the bridge to St. Paul and whipped the Philadelphia Warriors, 100-94.

Lakers Face Warriors

If the Lakers take Philadelphia again tonight (the last night of the regular season) at Minneapolis, Fort Wayne beats Syracuse and St. Louis loses to Rochester, then there will be a three-way tie for first place in the Western Division. It would then be played off this way:

St. Louis would entertain Fort Wayne March 14, and the winner would meet the Lakers for first place. If Fort Wayne were the March 14 winner, the first place battle would be at Minneapolis March 15, but if St. Louis won, the Hawks would be host team March 16.

If Minneapolis and Fort Wayne tie for second place, then the Lakers would entertain the Pistons March 14.

Playoff Looms

The Warriors must win tonight if New York downs Boston, because a Warrior loss and a Knick win would create a tie for the third playoff berth in the Eastern Division. Such tie would be played off at Philly March 14 or 15. If the Warriors tie Syracuse for second, the playoff would be at Syracuse March 15.

The Laker franchise was sold conditionally to baseball figure Marty Marion and his business partner Milton Fischmann of St. Louis three weeks ago but that transaction was not to be effective if Minneapolis interests were able to match the $150,000 purchase price. They made it yesterday—a day ahead of schedule.

Answer to Previous Puzzle

Wings Up NHL Lead

By The Associated Press

Detroit's Red Wings held a five-point lead in the National Hockey League today with five games to play in the regular season.

The Wings snapped out of a slump last night and wrecked the tailend Chicago Black Hawks home finale 4-3. The Black Hawks, seven points out of fifth place with only four contests to go, have nothing but next season to look forward to.

Detroit had lost six of their last eight games and had only one victory to show for nine starts, but got rolling in the first period against the Hawks on a goal by Alex Delvecchio while the Hawks were shorthanded. Tallies by Norm Ullman and Delvecchio in the second period and another by Lorne Ferguson at 8:36 of the third made it 4-0 before Forbes Kennedy, Nick Mickowski and Hec Lalande hit for Chicago.

Boston, in third place, with 73 points, can tie Montreal for second tonight with a win over the fourth-place Rangers at New York. A Ranger victory would clinch a spot in the Stanley Cup playoffs and eliminate Toronto from contention.

Two Lose Lives

Chicago, March 13 (AP)—A 50-year-old widow and her brother, passengers in a taxicab, were killed and the cab driver seriously injured today in a collision with a locomotive of a commuter Milwaukee Railroad passenger train. The dead were identified as Mrs. Mary Mix, 50, mother of two teen-aged sons, and her brother, Thomas Folan, 54, a salesman for a Loop book publishing firm. Police said they were en route to their home on the northwest side. The cab driver, Presley Gregory, 25, a Negro, was reported in serious condition in the Cook County Hospital.

Aussies Feel Quake

Auckland, New Zealand, March 13 (AP) — An earthquake shook a wide area between Christchurch and Wellington today. No serious damage or casualties were reported. The quake lasted for several seconds. It was centered apparently at sea somewhere off the east coast. In Wellington, the tremor sent crockery crashing from shelves.

Minor Damage Is Caused by Fires

A fire at 5:33 a. m., today caused minor damage in the apartment of Floyd Weeks, 43 Abruyn street, slight damage resulted of a lower Broadway fire later this morning, and a car was damaged in a blaze last night.

A bath robe caught fire from a gas heater in the Weeks apartment at 43 Abruyn street and ignited carpet on the floor near it. The blaze caused heavy smoke, but no serious damage. The three-story brick building is owned by Roger Green, of 144 Cedar street.

A call at 9:35 a. m., today was for a blaze caused by a short circuit in a washing machine motor in the apartment of Carl John Simmons, 148 Broadway. The fire was confined to the motor.

Wiring in a car owned by William VanKleeck, of 61 Hurley avenue, was damaged by a blaze which started in gasoline as the car was being repaired. The call was at 5:53 p. m., yesterday. The fire was checked before arrival of firemen.

Mild Weather Due Through Next Monday

Albany, N. Y., March 13 (AP)—The extended weather forecasts for New York state, prepared by the U. S. Weather Bureau, for the period from 7:30 p. m. today to 7:30 p. m. Monday:

Eastern New York — Mild, spring-like weather with several shower intervals is expected through Monday. Mild weather at the beginning with showers likely Thursday night and Friday, then somewhat cooler Saturday. Warmer again Sunday and Monday. Showers are likely again by Monday. Temperatures will average some 8 to 10 degrees above normal and rainfall one-half to one inch. Maple sap flow should increase materially under the influence of warm days and moderate nights.

Western New York — Changeable spring weather is likely with temperatures averaging up to 10 degrees above normal. Warm, with showers Thursday, clearing and cooler Friday. Fair and mild Saturday. Warmer with showers Sunday. Clear and cooler again about Monday. Total precipitation about one-half to one inch.

Temperature Normals — Normal mid-March temperatures in upstate New York show daytime readings averaging from the upper 30s to the middle 40s. Overnight lows range from around 18 to 28 degrees.

Two Children, Man Are Bitten by Dogs

City dogs appeared to be in a biting mood yesterday afternoon.

Two small children and a man were reported bitten between noon and 5 p. m.

Charles Wands, 2, of 96 Clinton avenue, was bitten on the right side of the face on Clinton avenue, said a report at 4:57 p. m., and earlier Shirley Swartzmiller, 2½, of Colonial Gardens, suffered a dog bite on the right hand. Both were treated at Kingston Hospital and discharged.

Hugo Daschenhausen, 23, of Ruby, notified police last night that he was bitten on the right leg by a dog at about 3:15 p. m. He also was treated at Kingston Hospital, the report said.

To Continue Management

Albany, N. Y., March 13 (AP)—New York state and Canada have agreed to continue management of the Peace Bridge under the Buffalo and Fort Erie Public Bridge Authority until 1992. The bridge is between Buffalo and Fort Erie, Ont. Gov. Harriman yesterday announced agreement had been reached. He said bills to carry out the plan were being introduced in the state legislature. They would become effective Jan. 1, 1958, giving Canada time to enact conforming legislation. Without the legislation, the bridge properties would revert to New York and Canada when the authority's bonds were paid off—in 1962 or possibly earlier.

Accept Compromise Offer

Tokyo, March 13 (AP) — Japanese coal miners who have closed down 52 pits for five days in the past week accepted a compromise wage offer tonight. The 160,000 union miners, who have demanded a 2,000 yen ($5.55) monthly wage increase, settled for 1,300 yen ($3.61). The 13 companies involved in the dispute produce about half of Japan's coal. The remainder comes from non-union mines which are not affected by the dispute.

Negro Gets New Post

Taipei, March 13 (AP) — Brig. Gen. Benjamin O. Davis Jr., highest ranking Negro in the U. S. Air Force, has been named to a new post with air force headquarters in Washington. Davis, 44, has been commander of the Air Task Force 13, the unit assigned to the aerial defense of Formosa, since June 2, 1955.

No Barriers on Flight

Baltimore, March 13 (AP)—An air force colonel told medical men here last night that "there are no completely insurmountable biological barriers" to prevent man from flying out of the earth's atmosphere. Col. Paul A. Campbell of the air force office of scientific research in Washington told an audience at Maryland General Hospital that man's natural adaptability will enable him to withstand many of the effects of flying out of the earth's atmosphere. According to Campbell, man can withstand weightlessness caused by loss of gravity for short periods and also the rapid acceleration and de-acceleration which would be necessary in space flight.

Van Wagenen Awarded P-TA Life Membership

Woodstock, March 13 — The March meeting of the Woodstock Parent-Teacher Association was held at the school recently with Leon Carey presiding.

A report was given by the committee appointed to nominate candidates for the P-TA life membership. The Rev. Harvey I. Todd, chairman; Mrs. Charles King and Mrs. Karl Cousins proposed the names of Mrs. Stanley Quick, Joseph Forno and Walter Van Wagenen. There were no nominations from the floor. A ballot vote was taken and Mr. Van Wagenen was named to receive the award. This will be presented at the April meeting.

The nominating committee composed of Charles Hughes, chairman, Mrs. Milton Combs and Mrs. Alan Frodsham, presented the following slate of officers for the coming year: Mrs. Kermit Schwarz, president; Lauren Connick first vice-president; Francis Hancock, second vice-president; Mr. Van Wagenen, honorary vice-president; Mrs. Alex Sharp, secretary; Mrs. John Majoros, treasurer. This slate will be voted at the April meeting, with further nominations from the floor.

Dates for the variety show, single money raising project for the year, were announced as April 26 and 27. A meeting of all talent for the show was announced for Monday night at the school.

The meeting opened with the P-TA prayer. Mrs. Inger Walter, treasurer, reported a balance of $342.65.

Harry Rigby, a past president of Kingston P-TA and student of area folklore, held the interest of a large audience, as he spoke of the history and folklore of Ulster county. "Woodstock is everybody's favorite town," said Mr. Rigby, "because here yesterday and today are blended so gracefully." As symbolic of this he cited a church of long standing, the Episcopal church, which has recently completed a very modern building, while the newer Dutch Reformed church is housed in one of the town's oldest building.

Mr. Rigby expressed the regret of the group that illness prevented Miss Neva Shultis from speaking.

On display were pictures of Woodstock dating back to 1880. Of particular interest was a painting of the Irvington Hotel which once stood on the site of the Longyear building. This painting was loaned by David Schoentag, whose father owned the hotel.

A collection of textbooks was displayed through the courtesy of Alf Evers. This dated back to 1780, and some contained names long familiar to the area. These texts, or similar ones, were used in early Woodstock schools.

Following the program refreshments were served by Mrs. Ida Greenberg and Mrs. George Biesele. These were provided by fifth grade mothers: Mrs. Charles Hughes, Mrs. Donald Twine, Mrs. Alan Frodsham, Mrs. Wayne Underhill, Mrs. Stewart Strickland and Mrs. Eugene Wilbur.

Ninth Graders Help In Kingston Hospital

Woodstock, March 13 — A group of ninth grade girls are taking turns helping in the supply room of the Kingston Hospital, it has been announced.

These girls were all members of the former Girl Scout Troop No. 12 before graduating from the eighth grade last June. Mrs. Paul Haeussler, a trained nurse and former assistant leader of the Scout Troop, trained these girls for badges in First Aid, Child Care and Home Nurse.

Because of their continued interest in nursing, Mrs. Haeussler has arranged with hospital authorities for the girls to assist Saturday and Sunday morning.

Last week Selma Dendy, Judy Rapp, Valerie Fieshcer and Diane Shults took their turns. This week Annette Haeussler, Carol Anne Hefty, Jean Wilson and Barbara Longyear assisted. The girls enjoy their work, and while being useful, are getting a small taste of hospital life, which may influence their choice of careers.

Christian Science Services Scheduled

Woodstock, March 13 — The fact that the man of God's creating is not at the mercy of accidents, chance, or discord of any kind will be emphasized at Christian Science services Sunday, at the Woodstock Church.

Scriptural readings in the lesson-sermon on "Substance" will include the account of Paul's healing of Eutychus who "fell down from the third loft, and was taken up dead" (Acts 20:7-12).

Selections to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include (424:5).

The Golden Text is from Ecclesiastes (3:14).

Episcopal Church Announces Services

Woodstock, March 13 — The schedule of services during Lent at St. Gregory's Episcopal Church, are as follows, it has been announced by the Rev. Herald C. Swezy, vicar—Sundays in Lent—12 noon, morning prayer, Holy Communion and sermon; Mondays in Lent—8 p. m., adult instruction class; Thursdays in Lent—10 a. m., Holy Communion followed by breakfast and Bible study (beginning March 14); 4 p. m., childrens confirmation class, ages 10 to 14.

Holy Week and Easter services will be announced later.

P-TA Schedules Shamrock Ball

Woodstock, March 13 — Mrs. George Kelly has announced the next student P-TA dance will be held at the Woodstock School, Saturday, from 8 to 11 p. m.

Bob Steuding and his Blue Notes will play. Refreshments will be served by Joseph Forno. The dance will be sponsored by the Square Club. The P-TA student dance committee will chaperone: Mr. and Mrs. George Kelly, Mr. and Mrs. Charles King, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Combs and Mr. and Mrs. Francis Hancock.

Girl Scout News

Woodstock, March 13 — This year Girl Scout Week is being celebrated across the nation from Sunday, March 10, through Saturday, March 16. The 45th birthday of Girl Scouting was on Tuesday, March 12.

Girl Scout Week has traditionally been the time to tell the Girl Scout story so that the public will be aware of the Girl Scout achievements locally and nationally and will give their support to the organization with even greater enthusiasm.

To show what the girls have accomplished, there are displays in two windows in Woodstock, the bank window and the bakery windoy, and also one window display in West Hurley.

The theme in one window in Woodstock features "Fun in the Out of Doors" and the other features service projects, and on display are objects made by the girls in these two categories. All of the Girl Scouts in the Woodstock-West Hurley Neighborhood attended a birthday party at Woodstock School Tuesday.

Starting Monday through March 16, the Girl Scouts have been selling cookies. Saturday, March 16, there will be a booth at the Grand Union where the girls will sell cookies. The money raised in this manner is used to help maintain the Girl Scout Camp at Wallkill, Camp Wendy.

Lee and Blanch Are Featured in Tribune

Woodstock, March 13—A still life painting by Woodstock artist, Doris Lee is reproduced in color on the cover of "Today's Living," the Herald Tribune Magazine, Sunday, March 10.

A note in the magazine on the artist, entitled "Not So Still," reports: "It's unusual for this week's cover artist, Doris Lee, to paint a still life, as she's done for us. If she could be given any label, it would be 'Specialist in Americana, seen with a sense of humor.' She's married to Arnold Blanch (who paints a still life for us on pages 8 and 9), and in the past year this peripatetic couple has painted in the Great Smokies, the Catskills, and Barbados—as well as New York. Just now they're touring the South on their way to Key West. Oh, for the life of an artist!"

The pages 8 and 9 referred to, contain a picture article entitled "Painting by Blanch." In a series of eight pictures, it shows "How a master works: One of America's foremost artists shows step by step how he builds a finished canvas." The finished painting is also shown.

Town Notes

Woodstock, March 13—A resolution was passed at the Woodstock Town Board meeting last Thursday night to renew the application with the New York State Youth Commission for $1,000. An equal amount must be raised by the town for the recreation program in the township.

Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Harder left Friday for Florida.

Petersburg, Alaska is a prime center of the fishing and shrimping industry. Almost all its 2,000 residents are Scandinavian.
